27 Are Killed When Plane Falls In Residential Area

SEATTLE (AP)—A nonscheduled airliner, its engines sputtering as it left an icy runway, crashed into killing at least 27 persons and injuring 45 others as it exploded and burned.

The big Peninsular Air Transport Co. plane was loaded with 66 servicemen who had just returned from the Far East and were trying to get home for Thanksgiving. Also aboard were a man, woman, two children and a crew of three.

The plane first clipped a tree on a hillside south of its Boeing Field takeoff point, bounced off the ground and shattered as it burst into flames. Parts of it skidded into the back of a house and set it afire but a young mother and her five children inside escaped unharmed.

Mrs. Donald Renard said she heard a terrific explosion. The next minute my yard was full of soldiers.

Bodies of the dead, dying and injured were strewn about. Flames fed by gasoline which had spilled from full tanks roared into the air. Some of the soldiers streamed into Mrs. Renard's house as she opened the door. Some were badly hurt; some groaning; some crying. Several had burned hands and burned clothing.

Within seconds calls were out for every available ambulance in Seattle and King County but their arrival was slowed by the ice and snow-covered streets.

When the ambulances arrived, dozens of the soldiers were wandering or lying about the wreck scene, some in a state of shock, others needing only minor treatment. Charred bodies were scattered through the still burning wreckage and it was some time before firemen could dampen the flames and start the grisly job of collection.

The soldiers were among hundreds who had streamed from Seattle toward homes and separation centers after arriving yesterday morning on the transport Gen. R. L. Howe from the Far East.

The government had contracted with a number of nonscheduled airlines, including Peninsular, to speed the men home for the holiday.

TWO INJURED WHEN CAR UPS THURSDAY NIGHT

Max Sherman, 232 Howard Ave. and Robert L. Schroyer, St. Thomas R. 1, were admitted as patients at the Warner Hospital early this morning after their car left the road two miles south of here at 11:45 o'clock Thursday night.

State police said Schroyer was driving north, with Sherman as a passenger, when the vehicle ran off the left side of the Gettysburg-Littlestown Rd., broke a guardrail, went down a ten-foot embankment and rolled over, coming to rest on its roof in a field.

Damage to the car, which was demolished, was estimated at $2,300. Injuries to Schroyer and Sherman include lacerations and bruises.

Sherman was still semi-conscious at the hospital this afternoon. He had been unconscious from the time of the accident until late this morning.

Physicians said both Sherman and Schroyer suffered concussions of the brain when they were thrown from the car when it crashed. X-rays this afternoon were expected to reveal any further injuries.

Schroyer told his mother, Mrs. Helen Beacom, an employee at Grant's store here, that his last recollection was of being at Harner's Restaurant in Littlestown where he and Sherman, enroute home from Pimlico, it was reported, ate and tossed darts. Mrs. Beacom said Schroyer told her they left the Littlestown restaurant at 9 o'clock Thursday night.

Mrs. Beacom learned of her son's accident from this morning's news broadcast over WOET. Hospital authorities had been seeking to reach Schroyer's home at St. Thomas, the only address they had.

Four AEC Commissioners Are Opposed To Blasting H-Bomb As Public Show Of Strength

WASHINGTON (AP)—Four atomic energy commissioners were lined up solidly today against a colleague's plan for a dramatic H-bomb "show of force" to impress on world leaders the urgent need for peace.

The proposal, made by AEC Commissioner Thomas E. Murray in a New York speech last night, also met some outright opposition in the Senate. But some senators said the idea was worth considering.

Murray's idea — outlined at the Golden Jubilee Dinner of the Fordham University Law School — was to call representatives of all the nations to what he termed a "meeting at the atomic summit." Such a meeting, he said, would be held at Eniwetok in the Pacific. Proving grounds used by the AEC. "Show Of Force" There, he said, these leaders —

President And Dulles Confer On Secretary's TV Talk Tonight

President Eisenhower drove in to Gettysburg today to consult at his office with Secretary of State Dulles on the final draft of Dulles' report to the people tonight on the post-Geneva international situation. Dulles' talk will be carried "live" by CBS-TV at 7:30 p.m., EST. A delayed telecast is planned by NBC at 11:30 p.m., and radio broadcasts are scheduled by NBC at 9:30 p.m. and ABC and CBS at 10:30 p.m.

The Eisenhower-Dulles talks, which began yesterday, go well beyond a mere reshuffle of the sour turn East-West relations have taken since the original summit conference at Geneva between Eisenhower and the Russian, British and French Prime Ministers last July.

NSC Meets Next Week Now the question is: What next? And, partly by happenstance, some of the American officials most deeply concerned with the answer to this question were calling today on the President.

First on the schedule as he would be any Friday if Eisenhower were in Washington — was Dillon Anderson. He is the President's special assistant in matters relating to the National Security Council. The full council, which charts over-all American strategy, will meet with Eisenhower early next week.

Later Eisenhower was to see Lewis L. Strauss, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, whose chief responsibility is developing the kind of weapons which are the big determining force in political-military planning these days.

Flying in with Strauss was Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, commander of NATO forces in Europe.

Not Entirely Lost There were indications in official quarters that Dulles' report to the people on Geneva might be less pessimistic than reports from the foreign ministers' conference had seemed to indicate.

The secretary of state was expected to elaborate on his comment at Geneva that the talks "have not been wholly barren."

For one thing, he was reported to have told Eisenhower that in spite of the Russians' steady succession of turn-downs at Geneva, they might very well agree in the long run to unification of Germany on terms to which the West could agree.

Dulles flew here from Washington Tuesday afternoon arriving at the Eisenhower farm at 4:30 o'clock. President Eisenhower, Dulles and Herbert Hoover Jr., assistant secretary of state, met in the President's ground floor study to correlate the cables sent by Dulles to Eisenhower since the beginning of the Geneva conference. They discussed the content of Dulles' message to the nation tonight.

Dulles Remains Overnight At 6:30 p.m. Dulles left the farm for the Hotel Gettysburg where he had dinner with some of his staff. Hoover flew to Washington in the Aero Commander after the meeting at the farm. He left from the Hanover airport since the local airport does not have lights.

Dulles and his staff worked after dinner over drafts of tonight's talk. Dulles remained overnight at the Hotel Gettysburg.

Dillon Anderson, presidential special assistant in charge of National Security Council matters, and Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams met with the President at 9:15 o'clock this morning. Anderson flew from Washington at 8:30 o'clock this morning.

Other Visitors Today Lewis Strauss, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, and Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, commander of NATO forces in Europe. (Continued On Page 3)

TWO INJURED WHEN CAR UPSSETS THURSDAY NIGHT

Max Sherman, 232 Howard Ave. and Robert L. Schroyer, St. Thomas R. 1, were admitted as patients at the Warner Hospital early this morning after their car left the road two miles south of here at 11:45 o'clock Thursday night.

State police said Schroyer was driving north, with Sherman as a passenger, when the vehicle ran off the left side of the Gettysburg-Littlestown Rd., broke a guardrail, went down a ten-foot embankment and rolled over, coming to rest on its roof in a field.

Damage to the car, which was demolished, was estimated at $2,300. Injuries to Schroyer and Sherman include lacerations and bruises.

Sherman was still semi-conscious at the hospital this afternoon. He had been unconscious from the time of the accident until late this morning.

Physicians said both Sherman and Schroyer suffered concussions of the brain when they were thrown from the car when it crashed. X-rays this afternoon were expected to reveal any further injuries.

Schroyer told his mother, Mrs. Helen Beacom, an employee at Grant's store here, that his last recollection was of being at Harner's Restaurant in Littlestown where he and Sherman, enroute home from Pimlico, it was reported, ate and tossed darts. Mrs. Beacom said Schroyer told her they left the Littlestown restaurant at 9 o'clock Thursday night.

Mrs. Beacom learned of her son's accident from this morning's news broadcast over WGET. Hospital authorities had been seeking to reach Schroyer's home at St. Thomas, the only address they had.

Not Entirely Lost

There were indications in official quarters that Dulles' report to the people on Geneva might be less pessimistic than reports from the foreign ministers' conference had seemed to indicate.

The secretary of state was expected to elaborate on his comment at Geneva that the talks "have not been wholly barren."

For one thing, he was reported to have told Eisenhower that in spite of the Russians' steady succession of turn-downs at Geneva, they might very well agree in the long run to unification of Germany on terms to which the West could agree.

Dulles flew here from Washington Tuesday afternoon arriving at the Eisenhower farm at 4:30 o'clock. President Eisenhower, Dulles and Herbert Hoover Jr., assistant secretary of state, met in the President's ground floor study to correlate the cables sent by Dulles to Eisenhower since the beginning of the Geneva conference. They discussed the content of Dulles' message to the nation tonight.

Dulles Remains Overnight

At 6:30 p.m. Dulles left the farm for the Hotel Gettysburg where he had dinner with some of his staff. Hoover flew to Washington in the AEC Commander after the meeting at the farm. He left from the Hanover airport since the local airport does not have lights.

Dulles and his staff worked after dinner over drafts of tonight's talk. Dulles remained overnight at the Hotel Gettysburg.

Dillon Anderson, presidential special assistant in charge of National Security Council matters, and Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams met with the President at 9:15 o'clock this morning. Anderson flew from Washington at 8:30 o'clock this morning.

President And Dulles Confer On Secretary's TV Talk Tonight

President Eisenhower today drove into Gettysburg to consult at his office with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles on the final draft of Dulles' report to the people tonight on the post-Geneva international situation.

Dulles' talk will be carried "live" by CBS-TV at 7:30 p.m., EST. A delayed telecast is planned by NBC at 11:30 p.m., and radio broadcasts are scheduled by NBC at 9:30 p.m. and ABC and CBS at 10:30 p.m.

The Eisenhower-Dulles talks, which began yesterday, go well beyond a mere rehearsal of the sour turn East-West relations have taken since the original summit conference at Geneva between Eisenhower and the Russian, British and French Prime Ministers last July.

NSC Meets Next Week

Now the question is: What next? And, partly by happenstance, some of the American officials most deeply concerned with the answer to this question were calling today on the President.

First on the schedule as he would be any Friday if Eisenhower were in Washington — was Dillon Anderson. He is the President's special assistant in matters relating to the National Security Council. The full council, which charts over-all American strategy, will meet with Eisenhower early next week.

Later Eisenhower was to see Lewis L. Strauss, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, whose chief responsibility is developing the kind of weapons which are the big determining force in political-military planning these days.

Flying in with Strauss was Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, commander of NATO forces in Europe.

Four AEC Commissioners Are Opposed To Blasting H-Bomb As Public Show Of Strength

WASHINGTON (AP)—Four atomic energy commissioners were lined up solidly today against a colleague's plan for a dramatic H-bomb "show of force" to impress on world leaders the urgent need for peace.

The proposal, made by AEC Commissioner Thomas E. Murray in a New York speech last night, also met some outright opposition in the Senate. But some senators said the idea was worth considering.

Murray's idea — outlined at the Golden Jubilee Dinner of the Fordham University Law School — was to call representatives of all the nations to what he termed a "meeting at the atomic summit."

Such a meeting, he said, would be held at Eniwetok in the Pacific Proving Grounds used by the AEC. "Show Of Force"

Big Four Break Indicates Fresh Propaganda Assault

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
GENEVA (AP) — East and West squared off today for a new round of the cold war for Germany.
Closing statements at the Big Four foreign ministers yesterday left no doubt the struggle, concentrated for three weeks in the Palace of Nations here, will be transformed into a wider conflict of international politics and propaganda directed from Moscow, Washington, London, Paris and Bonn.
The foreign ministers' conference ended with the spirit of Geneva, born four months ago at the summit conference here, torn to tatters. There was no decision to hold another session.

Each side blamed the other for the total failure of the talks to produce any constructive agreements on German reunification, a European security pact, atomic disarmament and the removal of Iron Curtain barriers.
After polite but tough exchanges in a 3½-hour final session, the foreign ministers began pulling out for home.

ISRAELI SAYS EGYPT REJECTS U.N. PROPOSALS

By JAMES M. LONG
JERUSALEM (AP) — Sources close to the Israeli government said today Egypt has rejected U. N. proposals for easing tension around the El Ajla demilitarized zone.
Israel has not yet given a formal reply to the proposals made early this month by U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld but a spokesman last week said the Israeli government would support them.
Tension in the demilitarized zone along the Negev-Sinai desert border area flared two weeks ago in the bloodiest fighting since the end of the Palestine war.
Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, U. N. chief truce supervisor, returned from Cairo early this week but made no announcement on the outcome of his talks with Egyptian leaders.
Details of the U. N. proposals have never been announced.

Cites U. N. Plan
The diplomatic correspondent of the English-language Jerusalem Post, whose articles often closely reflect the government view, said today the U. N. plan included:
1. Completion of the marking of the Sinai-Negev frontier.
2. Further withdrawal of military forces of both sides, in effect broadening the buffer zone.
3. A general return to the ceasefire and zone conditions of the 1949 armistice.
That agreement provided a wholly demilitarized triangle 14 miles long and four miles deep on the Israeli side of Palestine's old international frontier and a "defense zone" of limited size and guard posts on the Egyptian zone.
Previous reports have said the Israelis were willing to withdraw their troops from the zone, but insist on keeping police in the area where many Israelis have settled.
Egypt was said to have objected to any plan for keeping Israeli troops in the zone, charging they were troops in disguise and a major factor in recent border outbreaks.

Trailer Suffers Delayed Action

WACO, Tex. (AP) — Most traffic accidents happen fast. But it took five hours for L. O. Wilson's big trailer truck to overturn.
Wilson had a blowout and pulled onto the road shoulder to change the tire. But one side of the trailer began sinking into the soft dirt. Wilson sat back and watched as the big trailer, over a five-hour period, settled on its side "as gently as if you had laid it down with your hands."

New Year's Day is a legal holiday in all states except Kansas and Massachusetts.

Insurance Agent Confirms Payment

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — W. A. Wallace's car was stolen and all week he kept in close touch with his insurance agent. Finally the abandoned car was spotted and a policeman went to check it out. By the time he got there it was gone again—but the cop didn't give up.
He kept checking and finally ran it down, just in time to see a young man jump out and run. A resident of the area came out to check the commotion in front of his house.
It was Wallace's insurance man, J. N. Trice. He promptly advised his client.

EAST BERLIN AUTHORITY TO ASK SEWER BIDS

The East Berlin Municipal Authority formally organized Thursday evening at a meeting in the East Berlin fire house and decided to open bids for the new sewer project for the community December 20 at 8 p.m. A public meeting will be held at the fire house.

Bids will be asked after William E. Sees Jr., Harrisburg engineer for the authority, has completed the specifications.

C. D. Krout was named chairman of the authority at the organization meeting held following formal acceptance of the certificate of incorporation approved by the Pennsylvania Department of State at Harrisburg.

Raymond H. Fissel was named vice chairman; John R. Wisler, secretary; John S. Lehr, treasurer, and Harry P. Nell, assistant secretary and assistant treasurer. The five constitute the board of directors of the authority.

Start Work In March
Saul, Ewing, Romick and Saul, bond counsel; Butcher and Sherer, Philadelphia fiscal agents; William E. Sees Jr., engineer; and Attorney Charles W. Wolf, Gettysburg, solicitor.

Following the opening of bids December 20 the authority will have 60 days in which to accept or reject all bids. During that period, if the bids are to be accepted, bonds will be sold to pay for the construction of a sewer system for the approximately 450 potential customers in the East Berlin area.

The authority expects to be able to start construction next March. It is expected to go into operation early in 1957.

C. H. WOLFORD

four civil cases were still listed for the current term.

Wolford was defended by Attorney John A. MacPhail, who had been appointed by the court when Wolford appeared without counsel. Wolford was the fifth defendant in the current term to appear without counsel. It was the second such appointment for MacPhail this term.

Admits Morals Charge
Lester Tyler, Fairfield R. 2, who faced two morals charges, entered a plea of guilty to one of the charges, and the court agreed to drop the other, after trial had begun. Earlier Tyler sought to plead guilty on one charge, while having the other one dropped, but it was not until testimony started at the trial this morning that the plea was permitted. When the plea was allowed, and the jury discharged, Sheriff Dorsey J. Shultz was still in Maryland, rounding up witnesses for the case.

Members of the jury called for the Tyler case included Mrs. Mary Craybill, Gettysburg R. 4; Charles Criswell, Hanover; Burnell Feesser, New Oxford R. 1; Roy C. Garber, New Oxford R. 1; Louise S. Hull, Gettysburg R. 3; Eugene C. Lemmon, Hampton; L. E. Myers, Gettysburg R. 5; Margaret E. Tate, Baltimore R. 4; Roy Weaver, Gettysburg R. 4; and Ralph Weikert, Gettysburg R. 5.

Dulles Plans To Retire To Island

Rumors which have been in circulation here on several occasions during recent months to the effect that Secretary of State John Foster Dulles had or intended to purchase a farm in Adams County were blown up like bubbles Thursday.

When Mr. Dulles arrived in Washington Thursday afternoon from Geneva he was asked by a reporter if he intended to buy a farm near President Eisenhower. The Secretary of State quipped:

"When I retire it will be to an island." This was a reference to his vacation retreat at Duck Island, Ontario.

Not Policy Plan

Joining in this statement were Chairman Lewis L. Strauss, and Commissioners Willard F. Libby, John von Neumann and Harold S. Vane — all appointees of President Eisenhower. Earlier, government had not been adopted as an administration policy.

Murray, a holdover from the Truman administration, said he had no immediate comment on the statement of his colleagues.

On Capitol Hill Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont.), a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said, "I recognize the validity of the idea but I surely don't see any need for it." Sen. Schoeppel (R-Kan.) said he could see "no justification or good that could be accomplished."

But Sen. Watkins (R-Utah) said he thinks Murray's proposal is "worthy of real study." Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.), another Foreign Relations Committee member, said he saw real value in stressing the fact that "a thermonuclear war means destruction for all."

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

Authorities Study Policies, Rates Of Insured Motorists

HARRISBURG (AP)—An exhaustive study was underway today to determine whether Pennsylvania motorists are being overcharged on their insurance policies.

"We are almost on the verge of the conclusion that auto insurance policies sold in Pennsylvania are improperly rated," said state Insurance Commissioner Francis R. Smith.

He added that such a finding "would affect nearly everyone" and pointed out that close to 90 per cent of Pennsylvania's 3 1/2 million auto owners hold insurance policies in Pennsylvania.

Appoints Head
Gov. Leader yesterday named Judge James C. Crumlish of Philadelphia Common Pleas Court, as head of an 11-member group set up to study what the governor described as "the problem of the uninsured motorist."

Leader said the group will complete its study and report its findings in "a month or less." He estimated that about 10 per cent of Pennsylvania motorists are uninsured.

"This thing will come to a head in the next two or three weeks," Smith declared of the department's insurance premium study, started about three months ago, "in conjunction with several other states."

Influencing Factors
Rating classifications, based on the age of the owner, how he uses his car, or the area it is operated in, determine the premiums on auto insurance policies. Smith disclosed the study after a committee of the Pennsylvania Assn. of Insurance Agents told him state auto policyholders are being overcharged a million dollars by "irresponsible people who had failed in their duty to determine the proper rating classification when policies were issued."

Is An Outgrowth
Smith, however, declined to comment on the million dollar figure and said it was impossible to estimate how much money was involved. The commissioner said the department's investigation "was the outgrowth of a regular examination. We have been, and are and will continue to look into this matter."

The association asked the department to see that overcharges are refunded to policyholders to which Smith replied:

"The department intends to protect the interest of the premium paying policyholder to the utmost." In commenting on the uninsured motorist, Leader said:

"Too many of our people have found themselves innocent victims of financially irresponsible car owners and operators. Some way must be found to protect all of and property owners—from uninsured motorists."

Leader said a report made at his request by Smith and Revenue Secretary Gerald A. Gleason, indicated the necessity for a "full scale study of the problem."

Study Group Members

Other members of the study group named are:

Judge Samuel A. Weiss, Pittsburgh Common Pleas Court; Samuel A. Dash, acting Philadelphia district attorney; Ralph H. Wherry, head of the Department of Commerce at Pennsylvania State University; Thornley B. Wood, president of the Insurance Agents and Brokers Assn. of Philadelphia and suburbs; James A. Hughes, Philadelphia, vice president of the American Assn. Insurance Companies; J. Ira Laird, Harrisburg, secretary of the Pennsylvania Federation of Mutual Insurance Companies; and Thomas D. McBride, vice chancellor of the Philadelphia Bar Assn.

Gleason and Smith were named ex officio members and Edward L. Springer, Moon Twp. Allegheny County, deputy attorney general,

The East Berlin Municipal Authority formally organized Thursday evening at a meeting in the East Berlin fire house and decided to open bids for the new sewer project for the community December 20 at 8 p.m. A public meeting will be held at the fire house.

Bids will be asked after William E. Sees Jr., Harrisburg engineer for the authority, has completed the specifications.

Raymond H. Pissel was named vice chairman; John R. Wisler, secretary; John S. Lehr, treasurer; and Harry P. Nell, assistant secretary and assistant treasurer. The five constitute the board of directors of the authority.

Wolford was defended by Attorney John A. MacPhail, who had been appointed by the court when Wolford appeared without counsel. Wolford was the fifth defendant in the current term to appear without counsel. It was the second such appointment for MacPhail this term.

Admits Morals Charge

Lester Tyler, Fairfield R. 2, who faced two morals charges, entered a plea of guilty to one of the charges, and the court agreed to drop the other after trial had begun. Earlier Tyler sought to plead guilty on one charge, while having the other one dropped, but it was not until testimony started at the trial this morning that the plea was permitted. When the plea was allowed, and the jury discharged, Sheriff Dorsey J. Shultz was still in Maryland, rounding up witnesses for the case.

Members of the jury called for the Tyler case included Mrs. Mary Craybill, Gettysburg R. 4; Charles Criswell, Hanover; Burnell Feaser, New Oxford R. 1; Roy C. Garber, New Oxford R. 1; Mrs. Louise S. Dulles Plans To Retire To Island

Rumors which have been in circulation here on several occasions during recent months to the effect that Secretary of State John Foster Dulles had or intended to purchase a farm in Adams County were blown up like bubbles Thursday.

When Mr. Dulles arrived in Washington Thursday afternoon from Geneva he was asked by a reporter if he intended to buy a farm near President Eisenhower. The Secretary of State quipped:

"When I retire it will be to an island." This was a reference to his vacation retreat at Duck Island, Ontario.

Today's Talk

DOING ONE'S BEST
I have heard of people as being "perfectionists." We can interpret that as explaining there are workers who take such pride in their work that they are only satisfied with the best they can do. Nothing could be more commendable.

A reader of Lafayette Hearn admired the following taken from Hearn's book, "Motto": "Then let me hope that the state to which I am destined will not be worse than that of a cicada or of a dragon-fly: climbing the cryptomerias to clash my tiny limbs in the sun, or haunting the holy silence of lotus pools with a soundless flicker of amethyst and gold."

Hearn's reply to his admirer was that he had rewritten that paragraph seventeen times before he was able "to express to his own satisfaction the impression in his mind." I am not surprised that the interest in the writings of Hearn seems to be growing, though he died over half a century ago — in 1904 to be exact.

It is our privilege to do the best we can each day, at whatever we are engaged. If we do that we have nothing to worry over. When we have done our best, no matter what the result, that should be sufficient satisfaction. We can aim at perfection, anyway. We can keep getting better and better by trying to do our best today better than yesterday.

I like the idea of giving a retiring baseball pitcher a good cheer as he leaves the mound. I always feel he did his best, and so does the great crowd. The hope of every pitcher is to finish the entire game. When we do our best we are not asked for an apology — we are more liable to be commended. Even the greatest and most exalted can do no more than his best!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Greetings" Protected, 1955, By The George Matthews Adams Service

Just Folks

THE PROMISER OF PUPS
There are three promises in life which all men very glibly make. And one is fish as yet uncaught, the second's game the hunter's take. The third is commonest of all.

To him should go the silver cup —
The friendly, smiling, genial man who gladly promises a pup.

The fisherman will promise fish to all who chance to pass his way. The hunter smiles and says to you: "I'll bring you ducks some lucky days."

But still more liberal is he, for there's no chance to check him up.

The man who turns nobody down but always promises a pup. There are three promises men make which no one thinks to see fulfilled.

Upon the pledge of fish or game we long ago have ceased to build. But men indeed would be the man with whom you chanced to dine or sup.

Who would not gratify your wish and gladly promise you a pup.

The code of honor calls for strict observance of the given word. Yet who would hold this merry three to pledges made would be absurd.

'Twould be indeed a sadder world if death should ever gather up.

This gayest of philanthropists — the man who promises a pup.

George VI Cites Increase In War Goods From U.S.: (By The Associated Press) — King George opened a new session of parliament today with solemn assurances the empire would fight "until freedom is made secure" and an expression of satisfaction that "an ever increasing volume" of munitions is arriving from the United States.

His optimism was echoed by Prime Minister Winston Churchill who told the house of commons Britain hoped to give "a helpful measure of assistance to the Greeks," and that no matter what the damage from nazi bombs Britain would rebuild her cities and villages "after the fighting is over."

RESERVE BOARD PUTS CLAMP ON LENDING RATES

By FRANK O'BRIEN
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Reserve Board has ended its recent pampering of the ebullient boom with a double crackdown on resurgent credit expansion.

Effective today, the reserve board permitted six reserve banks to shove the discount rate — the interest cost at which they lend their member commercial banks — up from 2 1/4 to 2 1/2 per cent.

That is the most restrictive lending cost enforced by the board in 20 years, since the first half of 1935. Since then, until late this year, the reserve bank lending rate had never topped 2 per cent.

The new discount rate was authorized for the reserve banks at New York, Philadelphia, Atlanta, Chicago, Cleveland and San Francisco. A similar increase for the nation's six other reserve banks is expected on the basis of previous experience.

Names Second Curb
As a second step to curb credit, the reserve board disclosed that it returned this week to sales on the open market of federal securities owned by the reserve system. Funds used to buy these securities thus become unavailable for lending.

The two moves followed an ebullient upswing since the first of this month in business activity. The spurt created sudden new demands for credit on a large scale, and put a strain on production signalized in upward-moving commodity prices.

It was learned that the continued tendency of basic prices such as those for metals to move up, ward trend in stock market prices were key factors in federal reserve thinking which led to the new crackdown.

Hits At Inflation
The hike in reserve bank discount rates was the fourth since April, when the 12 banks were lending at 1 1/2 per cent. Upward movement of the discount rate is a favorite technique of the reserve system for hitting at possible inflationary developments. It makes borrowing from the federal reserve system more costly for the member banks which, in turn, increase the rate of interest they charge their clients.

This progressively discourages the expansion of credit. But at the same time keeps credit available — at a price. Thus, speculative borrowing tends to be forced out.

FREE CONVICT TO CONTINUE NUCLEAR WORK
HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — A 34-year-old convicted holdup slayer sentenced to a life term has been paroled on a state pardons board recommendation that he be permitted to continue his studies in the field of nuclear science.

Gov. George H. Leader announced Wednesday that Marion S. Kapelski would be ordered released from Eastern State Penitentiary at Philadelphia after serving 15 years for killing a gasoline station attendant during a holdup in November 1939.

The governor said his action followed a recommendation by the pardons board. Former Berks County Judge Paul N. Schaeffer, who originally sentenced Kapelski appeared before the board last September and described Kapelski as "very intelligent."

Kapelski's attorney, State Sen. Israel Stiefel, Philadelphia Democrat, showed the board letters from several aircraft firms and the Atomic Energy Commission, acknowledging designs drawn by Kapelski while he was a prisoner. The designs were described as for revolutionary types of aircraft propellers and an eight-inch shell to be fired from an atomic cannon. Although the letters said the designs were unworkable, the attorney said all suggested that Kapelski be permitted to continue his work and studies. Stiefel said Kapelski gained all his knowledge in the nuclear field through studying books, most of them loaned him by the Franklin Institute in Philadelphia.

Several of the firms who wrote Kapelski offered him jobs, Stiefel said.

Lukens Steel Opens $10 Million Plant

COATESVILLE, Pa. (AP)—Lukens Steel Co. opened a 10 million dollar plant today for heat treatment of armor plate. The new facility was inspected by Rear Adm. E. H. Von Helmburg, the commandant of the 4th Naval District at Philadelphia, and a party of other naval officials.

The company said the plant ends a 32 million dollar expansion program begun since the end of World War II. It covers an area approximately the size of three football fields and includes machinery for flattening plates up to 200 inches wide.

Company officials inspecting the plant were led by G. Donald Spackman, vice president in charge of operations, and J. Frederic Weise, vice president in charge of sales.

FCC CLOSES CASE AGAINST PA. MAN

WASHINGTON (AP)—Lawyers for the Federal Communications Commission have filed what is expected to be the final brief in the case of publisher-broadcaster Edward Lamb and the way appeared open Thursday for a decision fairly soon.

Following the filing Wednesday there were no indications that other briefs would be submitted—thus clearing the way for Examiner Herbert Sharfman to hand down his decision.

That finding, which may come in about a month, will be reviewed by the commission.

At issue are allegations, denied by Lamb—that he once knowingly associated with Communists. Lamb is seeking renewal of a license for his Erie, Pa., television station, WICU.

Wednesday's brief by FCC attorneys objected that Lamb's counsel went outside the voluminous record of the case in recommending a proposed finding to Sharfman.

SOVIET LEADERS TOUR INDIA ON GOODWILL STINT

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and a Russian Communist party chief Nikita S. Khrushchev arrived in New Delhi today to begin an 18-day goodwill tour of India.

The two top Russian leaders were greeted by Prime Minister Nehru and other high Indian officials at New Delhi's military airport, where thousands of persons had been assembling since early morning.

The Indian capital was decorated lavishly for the welcome to the Russians, whose visit was set up five months ago when Nehru toured Russia as a guest of the Soviet government.

Demands Order
Appeals from Nehru for discipline among the crowds were warned that disorders during the Soviet visit would be a blot on Indian honor.

Special trains brought thousands to the capital and veteran residents predicted the welcome would rival any here since Britain's late King George V held a royal durbar — a reception of Indian princes — in 1911.

A government spokesman said there was no "declared holiday," but there "will be nobody working today."

All government offices were closed and many private businessmen shut their shops to permit their employees to join in the celebration.

The tour of the Soviet leaders is certain to have significant political effect on this country and observers were agreed that it would be the Western Powers whose position here would suffer.

WILSON NAMED BEFORE SENATE SUBCOMMITTEE
WASHINGTON (AP)—Testimony that General Motors refused in 1952 to sell engines to a bus-manufacturing competitor put the name of Secretary of Defense Wilson before a Senate subcommittee Thursday.

A Pentagon spokesman said Wilson, who was GM's president in 1952, would have no comment now on the testimony but would "certainly" answer any questions the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee might want to ask him later.

Chairman O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) said he was "inclined to believe" that the defense secretary was the "Mr. Wilson," not otherwise identified, on whose orders Thomas P. Butler said yesterday his firm was denied engines.

Butler, vice president of the Flexible Co., Loudonville, Ohio, said his firm had ordered GM engines for its buses through the Great Lakes Diesel Co., a Cleveland dealer.

He then produced for the committee a memorandum of Jan. 29, 1952, relating that Dick Cook, Great Lakes sales manager, advised:

"I just received a telephone call from the Detroit office stating that orders had come down from Mr. Wilson, who had a meeting with other officials in Chicago that we were not to deliver any engines to the Flexible Co. as they are competitors of ours."

Bullets And Diplomats In 58th Grid Game Here Saturday As Season Ends

One of the country's oldest football rivalries, that between Gettysburg and Franklin and Marshall Colleges, will be renewed here Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock when the schools clash for the 58th time in the series which began in 1890. The game will drop the curtain on the 1955 season for both squads.

Although the series "ain't what it used to be," a large crowd is expected to be on hand for the kickoff. Until World War II the annual contest was one of the top grid attractions in the state, one which produced upsets time and again. However, since the resumption of the series following the war-time layoff, the Bullets have won eight while losing but once.

Coach Johnny Yovicsin reported today his entire squad is in fine condition for the final game after a week of good workouts. The lone exception of course, is Frank Gagliardi. Senior quarterback, who was eliminated from further action two weeks ago by injuries.

Yingst Will Start
Sheldon Yingst, center, rated as one of the Bullets' finest centers, is scheduled to start at his old post after missing last week's encounter due to injuries. His understudy, Jack Ridinger of Gettysburg, who also was out of action last week because of injuries, is again ready. Dick Lewandowski, end; Don Harman, guard, and Robert Barkley, tackle, are also fully recovered from minor injuries.

Gettysburg is a top-heavy favorite to win over the Diplomats. The Bullets have compiled a 5-2 record against much stiffer opposition.

Coach Woody Sponaugle's outfit got off to a good start this season with victories over Johns Hopkins and Dickinson but then nosedived to lose five straight to Drexel, Albright, Western Maryland, Carnegie Tech and Muhlenberg.

The Diplomats have a good supply of veterans from last year including Co-Captains Johnny Wentzel, guard, and Carl Blair, halfback; Dick Pohner and Larry Young, ends; Jim Bean and Joe Kuehn, tackles; Ron Flemming, Jim Neese and Wentzel, guards; Blair, Don Bair, Carl Drukenbrode and Rene Herbst, halfbacks.

In the past a victory for either team in the annual affair always assured the winner a "successful" season regardless of the outcome of other games. That situation is again true this year for the Diplomats.

In Final Game
Sixteen Bullet seniors will be in uniform for the last time Saturday. They are: Ends, Alleva, Lewandowski and Hammett; tackles, Eckert, DeSautick and Dolphin; guard, Attig; centers, Yingst and Ridinger; backs, Solesz, Duka, Avis, Pieper, Paliszewski, Brown and Morro.

Gettysburg holds a 28-24 lead in the series. Five games ended in deadlocks. Last year the Bullets triumphed 33-0. The last Diplomat win was the 59-20 decision in 1950 when F. and M. was undefeated.

BILL GLASSFORD QUITS COACHING AT OKLAHOMA

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — The Big Seven Conference championship game with Oklahoma here tomorrow will be the "swan song" at Nebraska for Coach Bill Glassford. His team is given little chance to beat Oklahoma, champion or co-champion for eight years.

Glassford, at the Nebraska helm for seven up-and-down years, announced yesterday he was quitting. A five-year contract expires next June 30 and the coach said he had decided not to exercise a five-year option on the $12,500 job.

He said, "My family and I have decided for our best interests and happiness" that the option would not be picked up.

So he is writing "finis" to a Nebraska career that has seen him under heavy fire the past three years, fire that never died all the way down even when his teams won games.

He referred briefly to this when he acknowledged in response to questions that his family had been subject to "vicious harassment" from disgruntled elements of the alumni and other fans.

At the same time he said he had made "many wonderful friends" in the state and he sincerely hoped "that my successor will have the support of the students and of the administration."

When some members of the 1953 team, which had a 3-6 season, petitioned for Glassford's resignation or discharge, there was a rush of alumni, students and fans to choose up sides.

Glassford stayed, even though his resignation, he said, was demanded by two school officials. His contract was iron-clad—stating he could not resign nor could he be fired.

Despite a winning season and a trip to the Orange Bowl in 1954, some alumni factions kept up a steady drumfire of talk that Glassford "had to go."

The drumfire grew heavier when Nebraska lost its opener to Hawaii this year. It failed to die away completely even when the team, which took the blame publicly for the opening loss, rallied to win five and lose three.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

SHETTER FETES WARRIOR SQUAD; DAVIES SPEAKS

"Faith plays an important part in our life," Bob Davies, Gettysburg College basketball coach, told members of the Gettysburg High School football team and their coaches at the annual football dinner given by Cloyd Shetter at The Shetter House, Thursday evening.

"As babies you must have faith in your parents. Later when you learn to walk you have faith in yourself. When you start going to school you have faith in your teachers. Then you go out for some athletic team and you must have faith in your teammates, and coaches. You have faith in your cheerleaders.

"The basis of all faith comes from the Bible," Davies continued. "That is the truth and only truth." The all-time All-American basketball star illustrated his talk with two verses from the Bible, from St. John, fifth chapter, 30th verse, "I myself can do nothing," and from Corinthians, fourth chapter, 15th verse, "I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me." "With His help we find we can do just about anything," he stated.

Compares Countries
Davies drew the comparison of South America, where ten per cent are wealthy and 90 per cent have nothing, which was founded by Spaniards in search of gold, and of United States, where everybody has just about everything, which was founded by Pilgrims who had the Good Book in their hands.

In conclusion, the college coach commended the boys and their coaches for coming a long way and improving tremendously at the end of the season.

Davies was introduced by "Hen" Bream, director of athletics of Gettysburg College.

Gift For Shetters
Merle Gorman, who co-captained the football team along with Dick Stough, presented a glass cake stand to Mr. and Mrs. Shetter in appreciation of the annual banquet. Shetter, who started the custom when his son was a manager, told the team that the invitation stands for next year's squad.

PENNSY BOXER PREDICTS WIN

NEW YORK (AP)—Joe Rowan, a full-time steel mill worker and a part-time fighter until last summer, thinks he has a surprise in store tonight for favored Willie Pastrano and the experts.

The 21-year old Phoenixville, Pa. heavyweight is a 3-1 underdog in the 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden. Pastrano is the world's No. 3 light heavyweight. Rowan is unranked.

"Full-time fighting is easy," said Rowan, a solidly built, 5-11, 180-pounder. "The way I'm training now, Pastrano and a few others may be fooled."

It wasn't until last summer that Rowan gave up work in a steel mill to concentrate on boxing alone.

He hasn't been beaten in the last 13 months. His nonlosing string includes eight victories and one draw. The latter with wicked-punching Bob Satterfield. His over-all record is 26-6-1 with 13 knockouts. Pastrano is equally confident he'll keep his own unbeaten streak going. The 19-year-old New Orleans speedster hasn't lost in nearly two years. His record is 33-4-4 with 8 kayos.

NBC will broadcast and telecast the bout at 10 p.m., EST.

GUEST SPEAKER

Alex Bell, director of athletics and head coach at Delone Catholic High School, will be the principal speaker at the annual football banquet to be given in honor of this year's undefeated team at Saint Francis Preparatory School, Spring Grove, Tuesday in Sullivan Hall on the campus.

Bolts Dominate All-Star Laurel Conference Grid Squad; Officers Chosen

Littlestown High School, unbeaten champions of the Laurel Football Conference, dominated the selections by placing five players on the All-Star team which was chosen at the fall banquet Thursday evening at Homestead Inn, York.

Coaches of the six-school circuit selected the squad by choosing all-opponent teams. Each member of the squad will be awarded a certificate.

Those who gained the honors from Littlestown were: Don Sell, tackle; Dave Bucher, guard; Al Snyder, center; Kelly Pottorff and Jim Zulick, backs.

Three Repeaters
Ken Pitzer, Biglerville tackle, was among the three repeaters from last year who again gained All-Star honors. Others were Jack Gooding, West York end, and John Bowman, West York back.

Wilbur Gobrecht, Littlestown coach, accepted the championship trophy from Don Wissinger, West York mentor, retiring president of the circuit.

Following the regular policy of rotating officers by schools, the following were designated: Biglerville, president, and Dallastown, vice president, Dean Stover, Littlestown, was

CROWDED NATION
NEW DELHI (AP) — The average density of population in India is 312 persons for every square mile, according to the Indian Government Yearbook for 1955. Delhi state has the highest density figure, at 3,017; the Andaman and Nicobar Islands have the lowest, at 10.

Guy Gendron of the New York Rangers is 21 and one of the youngest players in the National Hockey League.

CONNIE MACK IS TOO ILL TO ATTEND DINNER

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — As they have done for so many years, old-timers and admiring younger fellows gave a prebirthday party for Connie Mack last night, but Mack himself couldn't be there.

On Oct. 1 he fell from his bed and fractured his right hip. In the hospital he fell from bed a second time. Later in October he underwent surgery, and in what seemed like no time at all he was back home and reported to be fit indeed for a man who will turn 93 Dec. 22.

Last night was supposed to be his first venture out since the start of his convalescence at home. His appearance at the Reciprocity Club's annual party in the Warwick Hotel was eagerly awaited.

At least 150 persons—club members, civic leaders, baseball fans and baseball giants of yore—waited for more than two hours in the hope that Connie eventually would show up to hear a congratulatory greeting from President Eisenhower read in public.

Although no formal explanation was given why Connie didn't make it, word was passed around that his family and physician felt it inadvisable for him to make the considerable effort, however keen his desire.

At the dinner, baseball stars of other times, men such as Frank (Home Run) Baker, Bing Miller, Lena Blackburn and Howard Ehmke, gathered around the chair that was meant for Connie Mack. They spoke mistily of him as a friend and as a master baseball strategist who guided the Philadelphia Athletics to onetime dominance in baseball.

Michigan Wolverines And UCLA Can Decide Big Rose Bowl Contestants Saturday

PENN STATE AGE WANTS GOOD DAY AGAINST PITT
UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP)—Penn State's Lenny Moore, top running back in his school's 68 years of football, has just one wish for his 27th and final college game tomorrow against bowl hungry Pittsburgh.

"I hope it's a good one, that's all," is his typical, reserved and limited comment.

Never known to blow his own horn the spindly leg "picture" runner already has had all the adjectives hooked to his name. He's been called the best, greatest and his accomplishments have been listed as the "mostest."

Fifth Leading Rusher
Son of a Reading, Pa., steel mill worker, the six foot halfback goes into the game as the leading rusher in the East and fifth in the nation. His 687 yards net in eight games averages better than five a try.

Still the figures are a bit under his 1954 record of 1,082 yards in nine games—the first Lion ever to break 1,000—that won him runner-up honors in the nation and a slot on the third All America team back field.

Something Moore said during that great season helps explain the difference. He attributed his success mainly to good blocking. "Without those men up front you can't get anywhere," he said.

This year Penn State, losers to Army, Navy and West Virginia, just hasn't the line it had last fall.

Ties School Record
Moore's 13 touchdowns in 1954 tied a school record and placed him among the top in the country. This season he's recorded five TDs. He has had eight runs of 50 yards or better.

All this by a player who says: "I never think about long runs or records. I think only of playing as well as I can and winning for the team. I guess I'm just lucky."

In the first four games this season Penn State played either in the rain or on a well soaked gridiron and so the fancy—stepping Moore had his troubles. For tomorrow the weather man promises cold but clear weather.

Bullets And Diplomats In 58th Grid Game Here Saturday As Season Ends

One of the country's oldest football rivalries, that between Gettysburg and Franklin and Marshall Colleges, will be renewed here Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock when the schools clash for the 58th time in the series which began in 1890. The game will drop the curtain on the 1955 season for both squads.

Although the series "ain't" what it used to be, a large crowd is expected to be on hand for the kickoff. Until World War II the annual contest was one of the top grid attractions in the state, one which produced upsets time and again. However, since the resumption of the series following the war-time layoff, the Bullets have won eight while losing but once.

Coach Johnny Yovicsin reported today his entire squad is in fine condition for the final game after a week of good workouts. The lone exception of course, is Frank Gagliardi, senior quarterback, who was eliminated from further action two weeks ago by injuries.

Yingst Will Start

Sheldon Yingst, center, rated as one of the Bullets' finest centers, is scheduled to start at his old post after missing last week's encounter due to injuries. His understudy, Jack Ridinger of Gettysburg, who also was out of action last week because of injuries, is again ready. Dick Lewandowski, end; Don Harman, guard; and Robert Barkley, tackle, are also fully recovered from minor injuries.

Gettysburg is a top-heavy favorite to win over the Diplomats. The Bullets have compiled a 5-2 record against much stiffer opposition.

Coach Woody Spangue's outfit got off to a good start this season with victories over Johns Hopkins and Dickinson but then nosedived to lose five straight to Drexel, Albright, Western Maryland, Carnegie Tech and Muhlenberg.

The Diplomats have a goodly supply of veterans from last year including Co-Captains Johnny Wentzel, guard, and Carl Blair, halfback; Dick Pohner and Larry Young, ends; Jim Bean and Joe Kuehn, tackles; Ron Flemming, Jim Neese and Wentzel, guards; Blair, Don Bair, Carl Drukenbrode and Rene Herbst, halfbacks.

In the past a victory for either team in the annual affair always assured the winner a "successful" season regardless of the outcome of other games. That situation is again true this year for the Diplomats.

In Final Game

Sixteen Bullets seniors will be in uniform for the last time Saturday. They are: Ends, Alleva, Lewandowski and Hammett; tackles, Eckert, DeSantich and Dolphin; guard, Attig; centers, Yingst and Ridinger; backs, Soltesz, Duka, Avis, Pieper, Paliszewski, Brown and Morro.

Gettysburg holds a 28-24 lead in the series. Five games ended in deadlocks. Last year the Bullets triumphed 33-0. The last Diplomats win was the 59-20 decision in 1950 when F. and M. was undefeated.

SHETTER FETES WARRIOR SQUAD; DAVIES SPEAKS

"Faith plays an important part in our life," Bob Davies, Gettysburg College basketball coach, told members of the Gettysburg High School football team and their coaches at the annual football dinner given by Cloyd Shetter at The Shetter House, Thursday evening.

"As babies you must have faith in your parents. Later when you learn to walk you have faith in yourself. When you start going to school you have faith in your teachers. Then you go out for some athletic team and you must have faith in your teammates, and coaches. You have faith in your cheerleaders.

"The basis of all faith comes from the Bible," Davies continued. "That is the truth and only truth." The all-time All-American basketball star illustrated his talk with two verses from the Bible, from St. John, fifth chapter, 30th verse, "I myself can do nothing," and from Corinthians, fourth chapter, 15th verse, "I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me." "With His help we find we can do just about anything," he stated.

Compares Countries
Davies drew the comparison of South America, where ten per cent are wealthy and 90 per cent have nothing, which was founded by Spaniards in search of gold, and of United States, where everybody has just about everything, which was founded by Pilgrims who had the Good Book in their hands.

In conclusion, the college coach commended the boys and their coaches for coming a long way and improving tremendously at the end of the season.

Davies was introduced by "Hen" Bream, director of athletics of Gettysburg College.

Gift For Shetters
Merle Gorman, who co-captained the football team along with Dick Stough, presented a glass cake stand to Mr. and Mrs. Shetter in appreciation of the annual banquet. Shetter, who started the custom when his son was a manager, told the team that the invitation stands for next year's squad.

Other guests included Gettysburg High School coach Howard Shoemaker and assistants Ray Ellis, Don Bickel, Ned Brownley and Don Tiziani; John Yovicsin, Gettysburg College grid coach; James Lentz, freshman coach at the college; Dr. Lloyd Keefeauver, superintendent of Gettysburg schools, and M. P. Hartzell Jr., The Gettysburg Times.

PENNSY BOXER PREDICTS WIN

NEW YORK (AP)—Joe Rowan, a full-time steel mill worker and a part-time fighter until last summer, thinks he has a surprise in store tonight for favored Willie Pastrano and the experts.

The 21-year-old Phoenixville, Pa. heavyweight is a 3-1 underdog in the 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden. Pastrano is the world's No. 3 light heavyweight. Rowan is unranked.

"Full-time fighting is easy," said Rowan, a solidly built, 5-11, 180-pounder. "The way I'm training now, Pastrano and a few others may be fooled."

It wasn't until last summer that Rowan gave up work in a steel mill to concentrate on boxing alone.

He hasn't been beaten in the last 13 months. His nonlosing string includes eight victories and one draw, the latter with wicked-punching Bob Satterfield. His over-all record is 26-6-1 with 13 knockouts.

Pastrano is equally confident he'll keep his own unbeaten streak going. The 19-year-old New Orleans speedster hasn't lost in nearly two years. His record is 33-4-4 with 8 kayos.

NBC will broadcast and telecast the bout at 10 p.m., EST.

GUEST SPEAKER

Alex Bell, director of athletics and head coach at Delone Catholic High School, will be the principal speaker at the annual football banquet to be given in honor of this year's undefeated team at Saint Francis Preparatory School, Spring Grove, Tuesday in Sullivan Hall on the campus.

Bolts Dominate All-Star Laurel Conference Grid Squad; Officers Chosen

Littlestown High School, unbeaten champions of the Laurel Football Conference, dominated the selections by placing five players on the All-Star team which was chosen at the fall banquet Thursday evening at Homestead Inn, York.

Coaches of the six-school circuit selected the squad by choosing all-opponent teams. Each member of the squad will be awarded a certificate.

Those who gained the honors from Littlestown were: Don Sell, tackle; Dave Bucher, guard; Al Snyder, center; Kelly Pottoff and Jim Zulick, backs.

Three Repeaters

Ken Pitzer, Biglerville tackle, was among the three repeaters from last year who again gained All-Star honors. Others were Jack Gooding, West York end, and John Bowman, West York back.

Wilbur Gobrecht, Littlestown coach, accepted the championship trophy from Don Wissingner, West York mentor, retiring president of the circuit.

Following the regular policy of rotating officers by schools, the following were designated: Biglerville, president, and Dallastown, vice president, Dean Stover, Littlestown, was

CONNIE MACK IS TOO ILL. TO ATTEND DINNER

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—As they have done for so many years, old-timers and admiring younger fellows gave a pre-birthday party for Connie Mack last night, but Mack himself couldn't be there.

On Oct. 1 he fell from his bed and fractured his right hip. In the hospital he fell from bed a second time. Later in October he underwent surgery, and in what seemed like no time at all he was back home and reported to be fit indeed for a man who will turn 93 Dec. 22.

Last night was supposed to be his first venture out since the start of his convalescence at home. His appearance at the Reciprocity Club's annual party in the Warwick Hotel was eagerly awaited.

At least 150 persons—club members, civic leaders, baseball fans and baseball giants of yore—waited for more than two hours in the hope that Connie eventually would show up to hear a congratulatory greeting from President Eisenhower read in public.

Although no formal explanation was given why Connie didn't make it, word was passed around that his family and physician felt it inadvisable for him to make the considerable effort, however keen his desire.

At the dinner, baseball stars of other times, men such as Frank (Home Run) Baker, Bing Miller, Lena Blackburn and Howard Ehmke, gathered around the chair that was meant for Connie Mack. They spoke mistily of him as a friend and as a master baseball strategist who guided the Philadelphia Athletics to onetime dominance in baseball.

PENN STATE ACE WANTS GOOD DAY AGAINST PITT

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP)—Penn State's Lenny Moore, top running back in his school's 68 years of football, has just one wish for his 27th and final college game tomorrow against bowl hungry Pittsburgh.

"I hope it's a good one, that's all," is his typical, reserved and limited comment.

Never known to blow his own horn the spindle leg "picture" runner already has had all the adjectives hooked to his name. He's been called the best, greatest and his accomplishments have been listed as the "mostest."

Fifth Leading Rusher

Son of a Reading, Pa., steel mill worker, the six foot halfback goes into the game as the leading rusher in the East and fifth in the nation. His 687 yards net in eight games averages better than five a try.

Today's Talk

DOING ONE'S BEST

I have heard of people as being "perfectionists." We can interpret that as explaining there are workers who take such pride in their work that they are only satisfied with the best they can do. Nothing could be more commendable.

A reader of Lafcadio Hearn admired the following taken from Hearn's book "Motto": "Then let me hope that the state to which I am destined will not be worse than that of a cicada or of a dragon-fly: climbing the cryptomerias to clash my tiny chimbals in the sun, or haunting the holy silence of lotus ponds with a soundless flicker of amethysts and gold."

Hearn's reply to his admirer was that he had rewritten that paragraph seventeen times before he was able "to express to his own satisfaction the impression in his mind." I am not surprised that the interest in the writings of Hearn seems to be growing, though he died over half a century ago—in 1904 to be exact.

It is our privilege to do the best we can each day, at whatever we are engaged. If we do that we have nothing to worry over. When we have done our best, no matter what the result, that should be sufficient satisfaction. We can keep getting better and better by trying to do our best today better than yesterday.

I like the idea of giving a retiring baseball pitcher a good cheer as he leaves the mound. I always feel he did his best, and so does the great crowd. The hope of every pitcher is to finish the entire game. When we do our best we are not asked for an apology—we are more liable to be commended. Even the greatest and most exalted can do no more than his best!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject, "Greetings," Prologue 1955, by the George Matthew Adams Service.

Just Folks

THE PROMISE OF PUPS

There are three promises in life which all men very glibly make. And one is fish as yet uncaught, the second's game the hunter's take. The third is commonest of all. To him should go the silver cup—

The friendly, smiling, genial man who gladly promises a pup.

The fisherman will promise fish to all who chance to pass his way. The hunter smiles and says to you: "I'll bring you ducks some lucky days."

But still more liberal is he, for there's no chance to check him up. The man who turns nobody down but always promises a pup.

There are three promises men make which no one thinks to see fulfilled.

Upon the pledge of fish or game we long ago have ceased to build. But mean indeed would be the man with whom you chanced to dine or sup.

Who would not gratify your wish and gladly promise you a pup.

The code of honor calls for strict observance of the given word. Yet who would hold this merry thrice to pledges made would be absurd.

'Twould be indeed a sadder world if death should ever gather up— This gayest of philanthropists—the man who promises a pup.

The two occupants of the 35,000-ton truck and trailer escaped serious injury, although the driver is confined to the hospital in Lewisport.

The deceased was born near Knoxlyn, a daughter of the late Leander and Elizabeth (Bohlinger) Warren, and lived all her life in Adams county. She came to Gettysburg upon her marriage 36 years ago and had resided here since that time.

She was a member of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Boston, Massachusetts, and also of the Christian Science Society of Gettysburg.

George VI Cites Increase In War Goods From U.S.: (By The Associated Press) — King George opened a new session of parliament today with solemn assurances the empire would fight "until freedom is made secure" and an expression of satisfaction that "an ever increasing volume" of munitions is arriving from the United States.

His optimism was echoed by Prime Minister Winston Churchill who told the house of commons Britain hoped to give "a helpful measure of assistance to the Greeks," and that no matter what the damage from Nazi bombs Britain would rebuild her cities and villages "after the fighting is over."

In 1624, the value of the Mayflower, the ship which took the Pilgrims from England to America, was set at $750 because she was then in poor condition.

RESERVE BOARD PUTS CLAMP ON LENDING RATES

By FRANK O'BRIEN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Reserve Board has ended its recent pampering of the ebullient boom with a double crackdown on resurgent credit expansion.

Effective today, the reserve board permitted six reserve banks to shove the discount rate — the interest cost at which they lend their member commercial banks — up from 2 1/4 to 2 1/2 per cent.

That is the most restrictive lending cost enforced by the board in 20 years, since the first half of 1935. Since then, until late this year, the reserve bank lending rate had never topped 2 per cent.

The new discount rate was authorized for the reserve banks at New York, Philadelphia, Atlanta, Chicago, Cleveland and San Francisco. A similar increase for the nation's six other reserve banks is expected on the basis of previous experience.

Names Second Curb
As a second step to curb credit, the reserve board disclosed that it returned this week to sales on the open market of federal securities funded by the reserve system. Funds used to buy these securities thus become unavailable for lending.

The two moves followed an ebullient upswing since the first of this month in business activity. The spurt created sudden new demands for credit on a large scale, and put a strain on production signalized in upward-moving commodity prices.

It was learned that the continued tendency of basic prices such as those for metals to move upward trend in stock market prices were key factors in federal reserve thinking which led to the new crackdown.

Hits At Inflation

The hike in reserve bank discount rates was the fourth since April, when the 12 banks were lending at 1 1/2 per cent.

Upward movement of the discount rate is a favorite technique of the reserve system for hitting at possible inflationary developments. It makes borrowing from the federal reserve system more costly for the member banks which, in turn, increase their rate of interest they charge their clients.

This progressively discourages the expansion of credit. But at the same time keeps credit available — at a price. Thus, speculative borrowing tends to be forced out.

Lukens Steel Opens $10 Million Plant

COATESVILLE, Pa. (AP)—Lukens Steel Co. opened a 10 million dollar plant today for heat treatment of armor plate. The new facility was inspected by Rear Adm. E. H. Von Heimburg, the commander of the 4th Naval District at Philadelphia, and a party of other naval officials.

The company said the plant ends a 32 million dollar expansion program begun since the end of World War II. It covers an area approximately the size of three football fields and includes machinery for flattening plates up to 200 inches wide.

Company officials inspecting the plant were led by G. Donald Spackman, vice president in charge of operations, and J. Frederic Weise, vice president in charge of sales.

Funeral Services Saturday For Peck

FAIRFIELD, Conn. (AP)—Clarence B. Peck, 81, retired president of the Charleson, (W.Va.) Electrical Supply Co., died at his home yesterday.

Peck, who retired in 1942, was one of three founders of the firm. Born in Brooklyn, N. Y., Peck resided in Charleston, Bridgehampton, N. Y., and Fairfield.

He leaves his widow, the former Eleanor Kahle; two sons, Clarence B. Peck Jr. of Morristown, N. J., and Marcel K. Peck of Fairfield; two brothers, Arthur of Stafford, Pa., and Everett of Bridgehampton, N. Y., and a sister, Mrs. Gladys Booth of Plainfield, N. J.

Funeral services will be held here Saturday afternoon. Burial will be private.

Appeals from Nehru for discipline among the crowds were warned that disorders during the Soviet visit would be a blot on Indian honor.

Special trains brought thousands to the capital and veteran residents predicted the welcome would rival any here since Britain's late King George V held a royal durbar — a reception of Indian princes — in 1911.

A government spokesman said there was no "declared holiday," but there "will be nobody working today."

Close Offices
All government offices were closed and many private businesses shut their shops to permit their employees to join in the celebration.

The tour of the Soviet leaders is certain to have significant political effect on this country and observers were agreed that it would be the Western Powers whose position here would suffer.

WILSON NAMED BEFORE SENATE SUBCOMMITTEE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Testimony that General Motors refused in 1952 to sell engines to a bus-manufacturing competitor put the name of Secretary of Defense Wilson before a Senate subcommittee Thursday.

A Pentagon spokesman said Wilson, who was GM's president in 1952, would have no comment now on the testimony but would "certainly" answer any questions the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee might want to ask him later.

Chairman O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) said he was "inclined to believe" that the defense secretary was the "Mr. Wilson," not otherwise identified, on whose orders Thomas P. Butler said yesterday his firm was denied engines.

Orders Through Dealer
Butler, vice president of the Flexible Co., Loudonville, Ohio, said his firm had ordered GM engines for its buses through the Great Lakes Diesel Co., a Cleveland dealer.

He then produced for the committee a memorandum of Jan. 29, 1952, relating that Dick Cook, Great Lakes sales manager, advised Flexible:

"I just received a telephone call from the Detroit office stating that orders had come down from Mr. Wilson, who had a meeting with other officials in Chicago that we were not to deliver any engines to the Flexible Co. as they are competitors of ours."

Jacob C. Winter Dies At York Hospital

YORK, Pa. (AP)—Jacob C. Winter, York County philanthropist and a director of the Cigar Manufacturers Assn. of America, died at York Hospital yesterday following a four-month illness. He was 67.

Winter was president of a number of corporations including the Farmers and Merchants Bank, Red Lion, and J. C. Hauer's Sons, Inc., Lebanon.

Surviving are his widow and two daughters.

SOVIET LEADERS TOUR INDIA ON GOODWILL STINT

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Russian Communist party chief Nikita S. Khrushchev arrived in New Delhi today to begin an 18-day goodwill tour of India.

The two top Russian leaders were greeted by Prime Minister Nehru and other high Indian officials at New Delhi's military airport, where thousands of persons had been assembling since early morning.

The Indian capital was decorated lavishly for the welcome to the Russians, whose visit was set up five months ago when Nehru toured Russia as a guest of the Soviet government.

Demands Order
Appeals from Nehru for discipline among the crowds were warned that disorders during the Soviet visit would be a blot on Indian honor.

Special trains brought thousands to the capital and veteran residents predicted the welcome would rival any here since Britain's late King George V held a royal durbar — a reception of Indian princes — in 1911.

FCC CLOSES CASE AGAINST PA. MAN

WASHINGTON (AP)—Lawyers for the Federal Communications Commission have filed what is expected to be the final brief in the case of publisher-broadcaster Edward Lamb and the way appeared open Thursday for a decision fairly soon.

Following the filing Wednesday there were no indications that other briefs would be submitted—thus clearing the way for Examiner Herbert Sharfman to hand down his decision.

That finding, which may come in about a month, will be reviewed by the commission.

At issue are allegations, denied by Lamb—that he once knowingly associated with Communists. Lamb is seeking renewal of a license for his Erie, Pa., television station, WICU.

Wednesday's brief by FCC attorneys objected that Lamb's counsel sent outside the voluminous record of the case in recommending a proposed finding to Sharfman.

WESTINGHOUSE ASKS COURT TO SAVE PA. PLANT

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Westinghouse Electric Corp. Thursday asked the Pennsylvania Supreme Court to restore a preliminary injunction that would prohibit what it called "illegal mass picketing and a seizure" of its Lester (Pa.) plant by striking members of the independent United Electrical Radio and Machine Workers of America.

The Delaware County Common Pleas Court had resolved the injunction Oct. 28 after it had been in effect for nine days on grounds that there was no evidence that workers were acting with force or intimidation to prevent anyone entering the picketed premises.

Atty. P. H. Strubing, representing the big electric firm, argued that there was "uncontradicted evidence" that members of the union—which he estimated to be about 6,000—have acted illegally by mass picketing and have caused

"irreparable injury" to the corporation.

Strike Began

The strike was called Oct. 19 in support of the UE's demand for a wage increase and other benefits.

Atty. David Cohen, representing the union, replied in his brief that "the evidence is uncontradicted that from the inception of the work stoppage the union was determined that no violence or threats of violence would mar the picket line." Cohen said further in rebuttal that UE pickets permitted any company-authorized persons to enter or leave the plant. He said the union picketing was "limited to peaceful persuasion."

Chain-Locked

The Westinghouse Lester plant, located on the outskirts of Philadelphia, is comprised of 93 acres. It has six entrances. The union says that all but one are chain-locked.

The plant designs and produces industrial and mechanical drive turbines for central power stations. The company brief said the plant also manufactures "some apparatus for atomic energy projects."

WHEAT ACREAGE CASE TO BE MON.

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP) — A court hearing is scheduled in Harrisburg Monday in a government move against Miss Elsie Mumma, 55, Hummelstown, charged with overplanting her wheat acreage allotments.

In an affidavit which reached Federal Court here Wednesday, Miss Mumma said:

"I am an unmarried orphan in a homestead of my forefathers. In times of peace as long as I own the land, the land is mine to have, to hold, to govern, to protect, to plant and to harvest and no one has the right to enter upon the land without my permission or without a warrant of the law and I will die to defend my constitutional and biblical rights."

The government charges Miss Mumma with exceeding her wheat quota by 18 acres. Under the law the penalty could amount to $450.

The government has asked for a summary judgment against Miss Mumma for allegedly violating the wheat quota law. If U. S. Judge Frederick Pollmer, who will preside Monday, refuses the government's motion, then the case will be scheduled for trial.

Miss Mumma has asked a trial before a jury of farmers.

A number of Adams Countians were among the 591 candidates who were conferred from fourth to 32nd degrees by the Masonic Order in a ceremony Thursday evening at the Zemblo Mosque, Harrisburg, which was held in conjunction with the final dedication of the new $1,500,000 Scottish Rite Cathedral and Masonic Temple.

Jacob T. Hollabaugh, Biglerville, was elected treasurer of the class which is known as the "Illustrious George Edward Bushnell Dedication Class."

The principal speakers at the dedication were George E. Bushnell, sovereign grand commander, of Detroit, and justice of the Michigan Supreme Court, and Ralph M. Lehr, grand master of Harrisburg.

Bushnell directed the Supreme Council of the Northern Masonic Jurisdiction in the service for the cathedral portion of the building. Assisting him were Scott S. Leiby, of Harrisburg, deputy for Pennsylvania; Luther A. Smith, of Hattiesburg, Miss., southern grand commander of the Southern Jurisdiction; Thomas J. Harkins, of Asheville, N. C., and Clarence M. C. Pitts, of Ottawa, past sovereign grand commander of Canada.

PRICES FALL BACK

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market fell back today in early dealings, sometimes rather abruptly, in a reaction to the latest government bond yield inflation.

The Federal Reserve after the close of the stock market yesterday raised to 2 1/2 from 2 1/4 per cent its charges for lending money to commercial banks.

On Capitol Hill Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont.), a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said, "I recognize the validity of the idea but I surely don't see any need for it." Sen. Schoeppel (R-Kan.) said he could see "no justification or good that could be accomplished."

Authorities Study Policies, Rates Of Insured Motorists

HARRISBURG (AP)—An exhaustive study was underway today to determine whether Pennsylvania motorists are being overcharged on their insurance policies.

"We are almost on the verge of the conclusion that auto insurance policies sold in Pennsylvania are improperly rated," said state Insurance Commissioner Francis R. Smith.

He added that such a finding "would affect nearly everyone" and pointed out that close to 90 per cent of Pennsylvania's 3 1/2 million auto owners hold insurance policies in Pennsylvania.

Appoints Head

Gov. Leader yesterday named Judge James C. Crumlish of Philadelphia Common Pleas Court, as head of an 11-member group set up to study what the governor described as "the problem of the uninsured motorist."

Leader said the group will complete its study and report its findings in "a month or less." He estimated that about 10 per cent of Pennsylvania motorists are uninsured.

"This thing will come to a head in the next two or three weeks," Smith declared of the department's insurance premium study, started about three months ago "in conjunction with several other states."

Influencing Factors

Rating classifications, based on the age of the owner, how he uses his car, or the area it is operated in, determine the premiums on auto insurance policies.

Smith disclosed the study after a committee of the Pennsylvania Assn. of Insurance Agents told him state auto policyholders are being overcharged a million dollars by "irresponsible people who had failed in their duty to determine the proper rating classification when policies were issued."

Is An Outgrowth

Smith, however, declined to comment on the million dollar figure and said it was impossible to estimate how much money was involved.

The commissioner said the department's investigation "was the outgrowth of a regular examination. We have been, and are and will continue to look into this matter."

The association asked the department to see that overcharges are refunded to policyholders to which Smith replied:

"The department intends to protect the interest of the premium paying policyholder to the utmost." In commenting on the uninsured motorist, Leader said:

"Too many of our people have found themselves innocent victims of financially irresponsible casual owners and operators. Some way must be found to protect all of us, and property owners—from uninsured motorists."

Leader said a report made at his request by Smith and Revenue Secretary Gerald A. Gleeson, indicated the necessity for a "full scale study of the problem."

Study Group Members

Other members of the study group named are: Judge Samuel A. Weiss, Pittsburgh Common Pleas Court; Samuel A. Dash, acting Philadelphia district attorney; Ralph H. Wherry, director of the Department of Commerce at Pennsylvania State University; Thornley B. Wood, president of the Insurance Agents and Brokers Assn. of Philadelphia and suburbs; James A. Hughes, Philadelphia, vice president of the American Assn. Insurance Companies; J. Ira Lalor, Harrisburg, past president of the Pennsylvania Federation of Mutual Insurance Companies; and Thomas D. McBride, vice chancellor of the Philadelphia Bar Assn.

Gleeson and Smith were named ex officio members and Edward L. Springer, Moon Twp., Allegheny County, deputy attorney general, Washington state has 5,026 miles of railroad.

LEADER PLANS MANUFACTURERS 3 PER CENT TAX

By LEONARD A. UNGER
HARRISBURG (P)—Gov. Leader Thursday ruled out a net income tax as a solution at this time to the commonwealth's financial dilemma. He said the administration's new tax program would be limited to a manufacturers' excise tax.

The governor told his weekly news conference the rate on the manufacturers' levy would be about 3 per cent, subject to dropping of his previous demand for some 118 million dollars in increased business taxes.

The personal net income levy, tentatively agreed upon by Democratic leaders in tax discussions in the past few days, was abandoned, he said, because:

"Can't Buck Groups"
"We recognize that we can't buck too many interest groups and the 27 Republican members of the Senate at the same time."

Leader, however, refused to rule out any form of income tax for the remainder of the 1955 Legislature. Senate Republicans last August defeated his proposal for a classified income tax.

Asked if the manufacturers levy would not add a further burden on business in Pennsylvania, he said: "This would not put Pennsylvania industry at a disadvantage in the market in Pennsylvania or out of the state."

Explains Tax
He explained the tax would operate this way:

The tax would be paid by a Pennsylvania manufacturer for that part of his production sold within the state.

On out-of-state products, the tax would be paid by the jobber or wholesaler bringing the product into the state. If the retailer or even the ultimate consumer purchased a finished article from some other state, then he would pay the tax.

The governor said present plans call for exempting food from the levy. Other exemptions will be sharply limited, he said.

"We can't go far with exemptions," Leader asserted. "We have to be hard-headed about exemptions or we're not going to get the yield we need."

Hidden Sales Tax
The governor was asked about

criticism that a manufacturers' excise was a hidden sales tax, the cost of which would pyramid by the time the consumer received the article.

"If this is the kind of tax Sen. Mahany can view as a sales tax and we can view as not a sales tax, a miracle has happened and I'm interested to know where the newspapers will stand on this," he said.

Leader referred to a statement by Sen. Mahany, Republican Senate leader, that a manufacturers' excise tax was "a hidden sales tax."

Mahany and other Republicans have been seeking a 2 per cent sales tax to balance the state's budget.

The governor disclosed a whirlwind timetable which will see the tax bill introduced in the House next Monday with a hope that it is passed in a special post-midnight session early Wednesday.

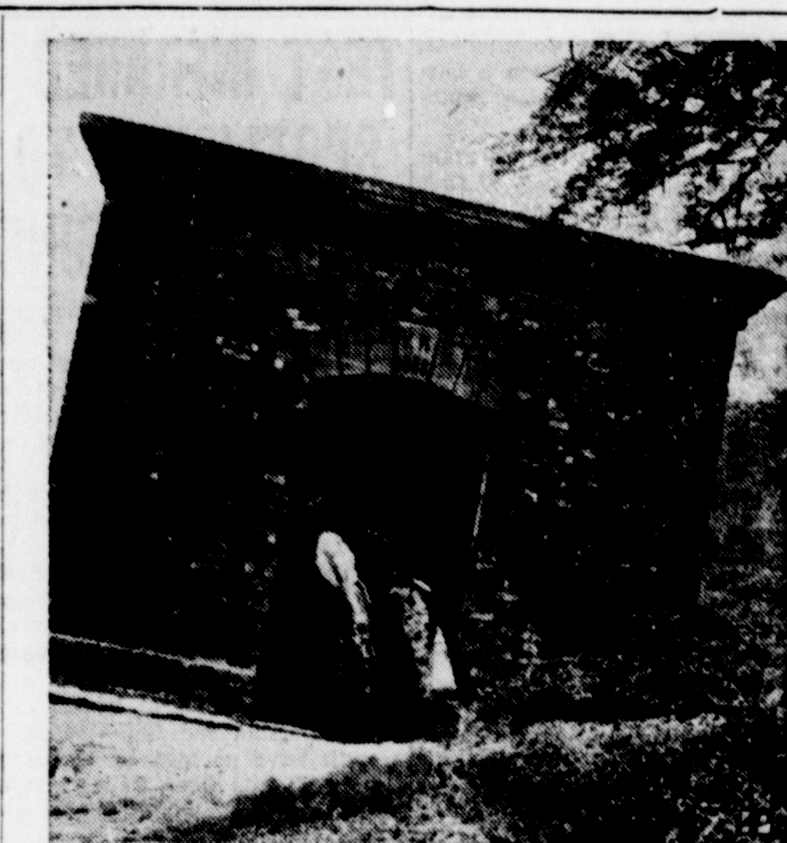

That would put in the hands of the Republican-controlled Senate before Thanksgiving.

The governor said he expected "walls of anguish" from the GOP senators, but added:

"I believe enough of them will support a tax program—probably this one—to put it through."

"I Think We Have Arrived"
Leader then was queried as to whether he would be willing to settle for a compromise dividing the tax burden between the manufacturers' excise and a personal net income tax.

"I don't know what I would consider," he said. "I think we have arrived at a program we can live with. So much demagoguery has come in on this tax thing that finding a solution to it has become quite difficult."

Grand Jury Indicts Man On 65 Counts

DOYLESTOWN, Pa. (P)—Coroner Russell J. T. Ferris was indicted Wednesday on 65 counts of obtaining money under false pretense, embezzlement by public office, fraudulent conversion and conspiracy.

The Bucks County grand jury also returned 15 bills of indictment against Ferris's deputy, Dr. William Goldfarb, charging the same offenses. The charges concern autopsies and allege that bills were presented for post-mortem examinations never performed or for overcharges made on autopsies that were performed.

Ferris was Republican county chairman until the charges were first made on Sept. 17 by Democratic county leaders. He resigned that post shortly afterwards and was subsequently beaten when he sought reelection as coroner.

Red Press Confirms Sunken Ship Report

HONG KONG (P)—The Chinese Communist Liberation Daily reached Hong Kong Thursday confirmed a report earlier this year that the Chinese ship Mingtze No. 3 hit a reef and sank with 1,306 passengers in Hangchow Bay.

Nationalist Chinese reports said Hsu Ping-fu, captain; Lin Ping, chief mate; and Lin Yen-hsin, pilot, have been arrested and charged with deliberate sinking of the ship.

The accident occurred April 17, but today's report was the first time the Reds admitted the accident had occurred. They gave no estimate of casualties.

BIG FOUR FLOP MAY STIMULATE EUROPE'S UNION

By JOSEPH E. DYNAN
GENEVA — Leaders in Western Europe's unification drive believe failure of the Big Four conference to reach an East-West settlement will give a new spurt to their long-stalled movement.

Ever since the July summit conference, and while the world waited for the "acid test" of Soviet intentions here this month, European unity idled on the sidelines.

Many Europeans expected or hoped the foreign ministers meeting would produce some action which would change the basis of European integration. That feeling has now evaporated.

The first reflection of the new emphasis on European unity comes this month when Jean Monnet's "action committee" holds its initial session in Paris.

Monnet drafted the Schuman Plan for the six-nation European Steel and Coal Community some five years ago. He hopes the "action committee," composed of political leaders in France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg, will spearhead a federal union in Western Europe.

Represent Majority
The political parties represented on Monnet's committee comprise a parliamentary majority in each country.

A key element of the group is the West German Socialists, who in the past have been cool to European integration on the grounds it would obstruct German reunification.

West German Socialists opposed rearmament and the treaties tying Bonn to Western defense for that reason.

But their presence on the Monnet committee may herald for the first time a bipartisan foreign policy in Bonn. There are reports that the Socialists may now come around to Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's view that the best way to reunify Germany is to establish an "irresistible pole of attraction" in the West through strength

THREE CHARGED WITH NARCOTICS

PHILADELPHIA — A public school teacher and two other men were arrested Wednesday on charges of selling, possessing and using narcotics in what police said was an aftermath of last month's mass narcotics raids here.

George S. Haslam, 24, who has taught as a substitute in city junior high and high schools, was arrested first and then implicated the other two, police said. They were identified as James Marlin, 23, and James Walker, 33.

Lt. Thomas McDermott of the narcotics squad quoted Haslam as saying he purchased narcotics in New York state and passed them on to Marlin and Walker. McDermott said Haslam denied using the drugs for the past six months.

A person jailed as a result of the October raids furnished the tip that led to the three arrests, said McDermott.

PUC ASKS MORE PRR TESTIMONY

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. — The Public Utility Commission called for more testimony Thursday at hearings on a Pennsylvania Railroad proposal to drop three of seven passenger trains between Williamsport and Harrisburg.

At opening sessions of the hearing yesterday the railroad was accused by attorneys for groups protesting the move of "wasteful operational practices" on the three trains.

The attorneys also said the railroad presented "statistics at the hearing that do not particularly pertain to the case at hand."

The company is seeking to drop its passenger service on the three trains serving Sunbury, Montandon, Milton, Watonsville, Montgomery, Muncy, Halifax and Millersburg.

PRR says the two daily-except-Sunday runs (Nos. 526 and 527) and a Sunday-only train (No. 525) should be dropped because patronage has fallen "drastically" in recent years. The railroad contends it is losing $41,897 a year by operating the trains.

and unity. This argument is that East Germans would be so attracted to a West European Union that the Russians would not dare prevent a junction.

Many other obstacles to European unity remain, however. One of the greatest is the continued division of Germany, which gives the Kremlin a handy bait with which to attempt to lure West Germany away from any European union. Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov in effect, has told West Germans they must deal with Moscow if they want their nation united.

WORLD QUIET BUT TENSIONS ARE BREWING

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower and his Republicans can look out across the earth and, except for an occasional shot on the Israeli-Egyptian frontier, there is not a tank moving. There is peace, it seems.

But it is the kind of peace a fisherman sees when he looks across a lake on a frigid November. On the surface nothing stirs, but only because the cold has driven the fish down deeper to wage their endless struggle against one another.

If there is still no open war by next election day the Republicans will have a good talking point. But in the end the cold war, with the subtle struggle fought beneath the surface, may be just as deadly as a hot one.

Some Tests Ahead

The United States has plenty of trouble on its hands. How well it is overcome will be one of the major tests of the Eisenhower administration.

The Israeli-Egyptian struggle is only one part of the deadly struggle between the United States and Russia. The Egyptians are buying arms from the Communists, reportedly 80 million dollars' worth.

The Israelis have asked the United States for arms. They had hardly made the request Wednesday in Washington warned this country that if the Jews get American arms the United States loses the friendship of the Arab world.

The Republican politicians are over a barrel on this, just as the Democrats would be in their place. This country can't afford to lose the friendship of the Arab world with its oil supplies and its strategic value in a war with Russia.

At the same time the politicians know the large American Jewish voting population doesn't want to see the Jews of Israel outgunned or overrun by the Arabs.

Up till now the United States would stiff-arm the Communists. The Middle East has been a barrier to Russian expansion southward.

But the Russians now are making bid to move in, if only at first in a kind of oblique way. They'd have to inch in anyway. They're promising not only arms but economic help, as in Saudi Arabia, Afghanistan and Syria.

The United States, to offset Russian promises of aid, may have to step up its own economic assistance in the Middle Eastern area. But this happens at a time when the Eisenhower administration is trying to cut expenses.

All in all, the Eisenhower administration has tough days ahead, with the Democrats always on hand to point to the failures.

LONDONDERRY, Vt. — The automobile of W. Harrington Hemmway of Adams, Mass., was wrecked when it overturned but four dozen eggs in the back seat were not broken. Hemmway was also uninjured.

TEST INFRARED SPOTLIGHTS TO CURB SPEEDING

HARRISBURG — A telescope-like instrument coupled with radar and two infrared spotlights was demonstrated on the Pennsylvania Turnpike last night as a safety measure which may result in reduction of nighttime speeding.

State police, lawmakers, truck association officials and highway safety experts saw the former secretary of the Pennsylvania Motor Truck Assn., said that "psychologically I know it will have a terrific impact on the speeding trucker."

During last night's test, two 5½ inch infrared spotlights shining on the highway, but invisible to the naked eye, made identification markings on passing trucks visible on a television-like screen.

Bullets And Diplomats In 58th Grid Game Here Saturday As Season Ends

One of the country's oldest football rivalries, that between Gettysburg and Franklin and Marshall Colleges, will be renewed here Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock when the schools clash for the 58th time in the series which began in 1890. The game will drop the curtain on the 1955 season for both squads.

Although the series "ain't what it used to be," a large crowd is expected to be on hand for the kickoff. Until World War II the annual contest was one of the top grid attractions in the state, one which produced upsets time and again. However, since the resumption of the series following the war-time layoff, the Bullets have won eight while losing but once.

Coach Johnny Yovisovich reported today his entire squad is in fine condition for the final game after a week of good workouts. The lone exception of course, is Frank Gagliardi, senior quarterback, who was eliminated from further action two weeks ago by injuries.

Yingst Will Start
Sheldon Yingst, center, rated as one of the Bullets' finest centers, is scheduled to start at his old post after missing last week's encounter due to injuries. His understudy, Jack Ridinger of Gettysburg, who also was out of action last week because of injuries, is again ready. Dick Lewandowski, end; Don Harman, guard, and Robert Barkley, tackle, are also fully recovered from minor injuries.

Gettysburg is a top-heavy favorite to win over the Diplomats. The Bullets have compiled a 5-2 record against much stiffer opposition. Coach Woody Spangule's outfit got off to a good start this season with victories over Johns Hopkins and Dickinson but then nosedived to lose five straight to Drexel, Albright, Western Maryland, Carnegie Tech and Muhlenberg.

The Diplomats have a goodly supply of veterans from last year including Co-Captains Johnny Wentzel, guard, and Carl Blair, halfback; Dick Pohner and Larry Young, ends; Jim Bean and Joe Kuehn, tackles; Ron Flemming, Jim Neese and Wentzel, guards; Blair, Don Bair, Carl Drukenbrode and Rene Herbst, halfbacks.

In the past a victory for either team in the annual affair always assured the winner a "successful" season regardless of the outcome of other games. That situation is again true this year for the Diplomats.

In Final Game
Sixteen Bullets seniors will be in uniform for the last time Saturday. They are: Ends, Alleva, Lewandowski and Hammett; tackles, Eckert, DeSantana and Dolphin; guard, Attig; centers, Yingst and Ridinger; backs, Soltesz, Duka, Avis, Pleper, Paliszewski, Brown and Morro.

Gettysburg holds a 28-24 lead in the series. Five games ended in deadlocks. Last year the Bullets triumphed 33-0. The last Diplomat win was the 59-20 decision in 1950 when F. and M. was undefeated.

SHETTER FETES WARRIOR SQUAD; DAVIES SPEAKS

"Faith plays an important part in our life," Bob Davies, Gettysburg College basketball coach, told members of the Gettysburg High School football team and their coaches at the annual football dinner given by Cloyd Shetter at The Shetter House, Thursday evening.

"As babies you must have faith in your parents. Later when you learn to walk you have faith in yourself. When you start going to school you have faith in your teachers. Then you go out for some athletic team and you must have faith in your teammates, and coaches. You have faith in your cheerleaders."

"The basis of all faith comes from the Bible," Davies continued. "That is the truth and only truth." The all-time All-American basketball star illustrated his talk with two verses from the Bible, from St. John, fifth chapter, 30th verse, "I myself can do nothing," and from Corinthians, fourth chapter, 13th verse, "I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me."

"With His help we find we can do just about anything," he stated.

Compares Countries
Davies drew the comparison of South America, where ten per cent are wealthy and 90 per cent have nothing, which was founded by Spaniards in search of gold, and of United States, where everybody has just about everything, which was founded by Pilgrims who had the Good Book in their hands.

In conclusion, the college coach commended the boys and their coaches for coming a long way and improving tremendously at the end of the season. Davies was introduced by "Hen" Bream, director of athletics of Gettysburg College.

Gift For Shetters
Merle Gorman, who co-captained the football team along with Dick Stough, presented a glass cake stand to Mr. and Mrs. Shetter in appreciation of the annual banquet. Shetter, who started the custom when his son was a manager, told the team that the invitation stands for next year's squad.

PENNSY BOXER PREDICTS WIN

NEW YORK (AP)—Joe Rowan, a full-time steel mill worker and a part-time fighter until last summer, thinks he has a surprise in store tonight for favored Willie Pastrano and the experts.

The 21-year-old Phoenixville, Pa. heavyweight is a 3-1 underdog in the 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden. Pastrano is the world's No. 3 light heavyweight. Rowan is ranked.

"Full-time fighting is easy," said Rowan, a solidly built, 5-11, 160-pounder. "The way I'm training now, Pastrano and a few others may be fooled."

It wasn't until last summer that Rowan gave up work in a steel mill to concentrate on boxing alone.

He hasn't been beaten in the last 13 months. His nonlosing string includes eight victories and one draw, the latter with wicked-punching Bob Satterfield. His over-all record is 26-6-1 with 13 knockouts.

Pastrano is equally confident he'll keep his own unbeaten streak going. The 19-year-old New Orleans speedster hasn't lost in nearly two years. His record is 33-4-4 with 8 kayos.

NBC will broadcast and telecast the bout at 10 p.m., EST.

Bolts Dominate All-Star Laurel Conference Grid Squad; Officers Chosen

Littlestown High School, unbeaten champions of the Laurel Football Conference, dominated the selections by placing five players on the All-Star team which was chosen at the fall banquet Thursday evening at Homestead Inn, York.

Coaches of the six-school circuit selected the squad by choosing all-opponent teams. Each member of the squad will be awarded a certificate. Those who gained the honors from Littlestown were: Don Sell, tackle; Dave Bucher, guard; Al Snyder, center; Kelly Pottoff and Jim Zulick, backs.

Three Repeaters
Ken Pitzer, Biglerville tackle, was among the three repeaters from last year who again gained All-Star honors. Others were Jack Goodling, West York end, and John Bowman, West York back.

Wilbur Gobrecht, Littlestown coach, accepted the championship trophy from Don Wissinger, West York mentor, retiring president of the circuit.

Following the regular policy of rotating officers by schools, the following were designated: Biglerville, president, and Dallstown, vice president. Dean Slover, Littlestown, was

CONNIE MACK IS TOO ILL TO ATTEND DINNER

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—As they have done for so many years, old-timers and admiring younger fellows gave a pre-birthday party for Connie Mack last night, but Mack himself couldn't be there.

On Oct. 1 he fell from his bed and fractured his right hip. In the hospital he fell from bed a second time. Later in October he underwent surgery, and in what seemed like no time at all he was back home and reported to be fit indeed for a man who will turn 93 Dec. 22.

Last night was supposed to be his first venture out since the start of his convalescence at home. His appearance at the Reciprocity Club's annual party in the Warwick Hotel was eagerly awaited.

At least 150 persons—club members, civic leaders, baseball fans and baseball giants of yore—waited for more than two hours in the hope that Connie eventually would show up to hear a congratulatory greeting from President Eisenhower read in public.

Although no formal explanation was given why Connie didn't make it, word was passed around that his family and physician felt it inadvisable for him to make the considerable effort, however keen his desire.

At the dinner, baseball stars of other times, men such as Frank (Home Run) Baker, Bing Miller, Lena Blackburn and Howard Ehmke, gathered around the chair that was meant for Connie Mack. They spoke briefly of him as a friend and as a master baseball strategist who guided the Philadelphia Athletics to onetime dominance in baseball.

Michigan Wolverines And UCLA Can Decide Big Rose Bowl Contestants Saturday

PENN STATE ACE WANTS GOOD DAY AGAINST PITT
UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP)—Penn State's Lenny Moore, top running back in his school's 68 years of football, has just one wish for his 27th and final college game tomorrow against bowl hungry Pittsburg.

"I hope it's a good one, that's all," is his typical, reserved and limited comment.

Never known to blow his own horn the spindle leg "picture" runner already has had all the adjectives hooked to his name. He's been called the best, greatest and his accomplishments have been listed as the "mostest."

Fifth Leading Rusher
Son of a Reading, Pa., steel mill worker, the six foot halfback goes into the game as the leading rusher in the East and fifth in the nation. His 687 yards net in eight games averages better than five a try.

Still the figures are a bit under his 1954 record of 1,082 yards in nine games—the first Lion ever to break 1,000—that won him runner-up honors in the nation and a slot on the third All America team back field.

Something Moore said during that great season helps explain the difference. He attributed his success mainly to good blocking. "Without those men up front you can't get anywhere," he said.

This year Penn State, losers to Army, Navy and West Virginia, just hasn't the line it had last fall.

Ties School Record
Moore's 13 touchdowns in 1954 tied a school record and placed him among the top in the country. This season he's recorded five TDs. He's had eight runs of 50 yards or better.

All this by a player who says: "I never think about long runs or records. I think only of playing as well as I can and winning for the team. I guess I'm just lucky."

In the first four games this season Penn State played either in the rain or on a well soaked gridiron and so the fancy-stepping Moore had his troubles. For tomorrow the weather man promises cold but clear weather.

EVIDENCE OF JESUS' POWER

Luke 7: 11-23

Key Verse: Go and tell John what you have seen and heard: The blind receive their sight, the lame walk, lepers are cleansed, and the deaf hear, the dead are raised up, the poor have good news preached to them. Luke 7:22.

Jesus was still at the height of success. He and His disciples went back and forth through Galilee, followed by great crowds who were either seeking physical healing or spiritual refreshment. In both miracles and preaching, our Lord had testified to His real mission. In last week's lesson He had preached the greatest sermon of His career, telling of the new law or covenant which He had come to bring — principles of righteous living.

Even the uneducated people who came to hear or to be healed recognized the universal quality of Jesus' ministry. His eloquent addresses and many miracles were not the most important part of His work. His power to forgive sins and renew and recreate the lives of people who sought Him was the real evidence. The power of the gospel rests in its ability to change men's lives. This has been demonstrated repeatedly on mission fields, where individuals have changed completely after being converted to Christianity. Knowledge and philosophy may capture men's minds, but only Christ's saving gospel can capture men's souls.

In the seventh and eighth chapters of the Gospel of Luke we find a number of interesting narratives: Stories about miracles of healing, various contacts with individuals, and some parables. Naturally Luke develops certain aspects of Jesus' ministry, particularly His response to the need of the sorrowful, the outcast, the burdened of mind. The lesson commentaries dwell particularly on two incidents in these chapters: The widow's son at Nain, and Jesus' answer to John the Baptist.

Some who came to Jesus were healed because of their faith. This was true of the centurion who brought his slave. Such was not the case in the narrative of the widow's son, Jesus, His disciples and a great crowd of followers arrived in a city called Nain. As they approached the city gate, they met the funeral procession of a man, only son of his widowed mother. The bereaved woman was accompanied by many friends. The account reads: "And when the Lord saw her, he had compassion on her and said to her, 'Do not weep.' And he came and touched the bier, and the bearers stood still. And he said, 'Young man, I say to you, arise.'" Immediately the young man sat up and began to speak. All who watched were seized with fear. They glorified God, saying, "A great prophet has arisen among us!" This miracle was the result of Jesus' compassion and is recorded in none of the other Gospels. Another convincing account in lesson is that of the two disciples of John the Baptist whom John sent to Jesus, asking, "Are you he who is to come, or shall we look for another?" It is not difficult to imagine the imprisoned John, wondering if his predictions about Jesus had been true! If He were what He had proclaimed Him to be, why had He not declared Himself and set John free? A very human reaction! Instead of trying to prove His messiahship in answer to John's message, He cured many of diseases, plagues, and evil spirits. Then He turned to John's amazed disciples and said, "Go and tell John what you have seen and heard." The climax of Jesus' answer, all of which is found in the Key Verse, was "the poor have good news preached to them." This, a "spiritual miracle," was the most important of all. As it happened in history, John belonged to the old order, Jesus to the new.

So the point in Jesus' answer to John the Baptist's inquiry is to show that Jesus is the Son of Man, coming in compassion. Consequently, His deeds of mercy in relieving human need are evidence of His power. Our Lord's critics recognized His power but they would not accept Him. This raises the question whether people are willing to believe what they see, or whether they believe only what they want to believe.

We must adjust ourselves to a new understanding of the truth as did John the Baptist. He had the idea that Jesus would come avenging the wrath of God. Instead Jesus was a lowly teacher and healer, who through the good news of saving grace provided the real miracle — changed lives and a new social order.

"OUR GREATEST CAUSE FOR GRATITUDE"

WGCT 1450 KC Sunday 8:15 A.M.

Thankful America

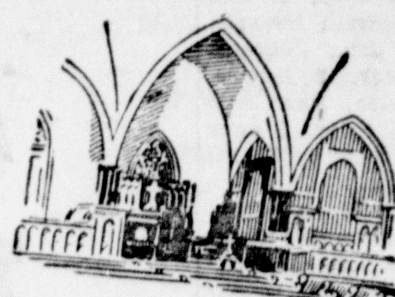

Thanksgiving Day is our country's public recognition of the power and providence of God. It is peculiarly an American institution, which has no counterpart in other lands.

On this day the people of our country, led by the government itself, express their humble and heartfelt thanks to God for His protecting care and the abundance of His provisions for our comfort and welfare.

The day itself is a wholesome influence in American life. It means a great deal when the people of a great nation lay aside their material concerns and gather in family groups to express gratitude for divine providence.

The Thanksgiving dinner may be a feast of delicacies or an unpretentious meal of simple fare. But those who partake of it should do so with thankful hearts and understanding minds.

"Let everything that hath breath praise the Lord," sang the Psalmist. And in thousands of churches and millions of American homes this Thanksgiving Day, grateful people will bow in humble recognition of God's matchless goodness.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend and support the church of his choice. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church on Sunday and read your Bible daily.

The program originates weekly from the Columbia Broadcasting system studios and is on the air for half an hour, beginning at 9 o'clock.

Just Folks
THE PROMISER OF PUPS
There are three promises in life which all men very glibly make, and one is fish as yet uncaught, the second's game the hunter's take. The third is commonest of all. To him should go the silver cup - The friendly, smiling, genial man who gladly promises a pup.
The fisherman will promise fish to all who chance to pass his way. The hunter smiles and says to you: "I'll bring you ducks some lucky days."
But still more liberal is he, for there's no chance to check him up. The man who turns nobody down but always promises a pup. There are three promises men make which no one thinks to see fulfilled. Upon the pledge of fish or game we long ago have ceased to build. But mean indeed would be the man with whom you chanced to dine or sup Who would not gratify your wish and gladly promise you a pup.
The code of honor calls for strict observance of the given word. Yet who would hold this merry three to pledges made would be absurd.
"Would be indeed a sadder world if death should ever gather up. This gayest of philanthropists - the man who promises a pup."

Today's Talk
DOING ONE'S BEST
I have heard of people as being "perfectionists." We can interpret that as explaining there are workers who take such pride in their work that they are only satisfied with the best they can do. Nothing could be more commendable.
A reader of Latitudo Hearn admitted the following taken from Hearn's book, "Motto": "Then let me hope that the state to which I am destined will not be worse than that of a cecilia or of a dragon-fly, climbing the cryptomerias to clash my tiny limbs in the sun, or haunting the holy silence of lotus pools with a soundless flicker of amethysts and gold."
Hearn's reply to his admirer was that he had rewritten that paragraph seventeen times before he was able "to express to his own satisfaction the impression in his mind." I am not surprised that the interest in the writings of Hearn seems to be growing, though he died over half a century ago - in 1904 to be exact.
It is our privilege to do the best we can each day, at whatever we are engaged. If we do that we have nothing to worry over. When we have done our best, no matter what the result, that should be sufficient satisfaction. We can aim at perfection, anyway. We can keep getting better and better by trying to do our best today better than yesterday.
I like the idea of giving a retiring baseball pitcher a good cheer as he leaves the mound. I always feel he did his best, and so does the great crowd. The hope of every pitcher is to finish the entire game. When we do our best we are not asked for an apology - we are more liable to be commended. Even the greatest and most exalted can do no more than his best!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Greetings"

Just Folks
THE PROMISER OF PUPS
There are three promises in life which all men very glibly make, and one is fish as yet uncaught, the second's game the hunter's take. The third is commonest of all. To him should go the silver cup - The friendly, smiling, genial man who gladly promises a pup.
The fisherman will promise fish to all who chance to pass his way. The hunter smiles and says to you: "I'll bring you ducks some lucky days."
But still more liberal is he, for there's no chance to check him up. The man who turns nobody down but always promises a pup. There are three promises men make which no one thinks to see fulfilled. Upon the pledge of fish or game we long ago have ceased to build. But mean indeed would be the man with whom you chanced to dine or sup Who would not gratify your wish and gladly promise you a pup.
The code of honor calls for strict observance of the given word. Yet who would hold this merry three to pledges made would be absurd.
"Would be indeed a sadder world if death should ever gather up. This gayest of philanthropists - the man who promises a pup."

RESERVE BOARD PUTS CLAMP ON LENDING RATES
By FRANK O'BRIEN
WASHINGTON (AP) - The Federal Reserve Board has ended its recent pampering of the business boom with a double crackdown on resurgent credit expansion.
Effective today, the reserve board permitted six reserve banks to shove the discount rate - the interest cost at which they lend their member commercial banks - up from 2 1/4 to 2 1/2 per cent.
That is the most restrictive lending cost enforced by the board in 20 years, since the first half of 1935. Since then, until late this year, the reserve bank lending rate had never topped 2 per cent.
The new discount rate was authorized for the reserve banks at New York, Philadelphia, Atlanta, Chicago, Cleveland and San Francisco. A similar increase for the nation's six other reserve banks is expected on the basis of previous experience.
Names Second Curb
As a second step to curb credit, the reserve board disclosed that it returned this week to sales on the open market of federal securities owned by the reserve system. Funds used to buy these securities thus become unavailable for lending.
The two moves followed an ebullient upswing since the first of this month in business activity. The spurt created sudden new demands for credit on a large scale, and put a strain on production signalized in upward-moving commodity prices.
It was learned that the continued tendency of basic prices such as those for metals to move up, ward trend in stock market prices were key factors in federal reserve thinking which led to the new crackdown.
Hits At Inflation
The hike in reserve bank discount rates was the fourth since April, when the 12 banks were lending at 1 1/2 per cent.
Upward movement of the discount rate is a favorite technique of the reserve system for hitting at possible inflationary developments. It makes borrowing from the federal reserve system more costly for the member banks which, in turn, increase the rate of interest they charge their clients.
This progressively discourages the expansion of credit. But at the same time keeps credit available - at a price. Thus, speculative borrowing tends to be forced out.

Lukens Steel Opens $10 Million Plant
COATESVILLE, Pa. (AP) - Lukens Steel Co. opened a 10 million dollar plant today for heat treatment of armor plate. The new facility was inspected by Rear Adm. E. H. Von Heimbarg, the commandant of the 4th Naval District at Philadelphia, and a party of other naval officials.
The company said the plant ends a 32 million dollar expansion program begun since the end of World War II. It covers an area approximately the size of three football fields and includes machinery for flattening plates up to 200 inches wide.
Company officials inspecting the plant were led by G. Donald Spackman, vice president in charge of operations, and J. Frederic Weise, vice president in charge of sales.

STEVENSON AND KEFAUVER MAY BE NEW TICKET

CHICAGO (AP)—Talk of a possible Stevenson-Kefauver ticket spread today among Democrats looking forward with new-found confidence toward next year's presidential nomination.

The party's state chairmen took the center of the stage today after the Democratic National Committee voted unanimously yesterday to open its 1956 convention doors to additional delegates.

Paul Ziffren, California national committeeman who helped sponsor the idea, said the expanded convention represented a new high of optimism among party workers.

"We've got a lot of Democrats who want to get in on the ground floor in the business of electing the next president," he said.

2,744 Delegates
A total of 2,744 delegates and 1,896 alternates will be eligible to attend the 1956 convention. They will have a total of 1,372 votes.

Individual members of the national committee had their own ideas about the identity of their presidential nominee, but Mayor David Lawrence of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania national committeeman, said sentiment for Adlai E. Stevenson appeared to be mounting rapidly.

Lawrence said there was talk of a ticket headed by Stevenson, with Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee as the vice presidential candidate.

Kefauver, due here later in the day, has maintained he wouldn't be interested in second place. He has said he will announce next month whether he plans to run again for the presidential nomination he lost to Stevenson in 1952.

Some Democrats thought that if

Kefauver ran and lost—or if he didn't run at all—he might be persuaded to take second place on the ticket.

Have $750,000 Fund
Democrats were cheered by a report of National Chairman Paul M. Butler yesterday that they had raised $750,000 in the first nine months of 1955, compared with $576,000 in the same period in 1953. They expect to boost the ante by about $200,000 taken in at tomorrow night's $100-a-plate dinner.

The committee approved the increase in delegates for the 1956 convention after adopting rules yesterday aimed at preventing any new "loyalty oath" controversy.

Stephen A. Mitchell, former chairman who headed the committee recommending the compromise, said the effect would be to require Democratic "leaders" to support the nominees of a convention they attend but would permit rank and file Democrats to cross

URGES WATER CONTROL LAW

HARRISBURG (AP)—William Voigt Jr., executive director of the state fish commission, says the greatest threat to recreational fishing in Pennsylvania is the "increasing demands made upon surface waters."

Voigt told a meeting of soil conservation district directors yesterday, however, that proper farming practices "will go further toward guaranteeing good recreational fishing for Pennsylvania than many of the techniques and devices dreamed up by fish managers." Urging passage of a "sensible" water control law, the executive director said:

party lines if they felt they had to. The national committee elected as new vice chairman Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, Rep. Hale Boggs of Louisiana and Gov. Robert Meyner of New Jersey.

"Soil, vegetation and water are the indivisible and inseparable trinity of natural resource conservation. Mistreat one and all suffer and the entire population suffers. So does recreational fishing."

The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad award for outstanding soil conservation during the past year went to Michael and Walter Gresch, operators of a 150-acre dairy farm at Ebensburg R. 2.

First place in the annual county soil conservation district contest went to Fulton County.

DELAWARE RIVER WATER NEEDED

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Interstate Commission on the Delaware River Basin (INCOREL) yesterday recommended construction of a waterworks plant that would ensure the future water supply of five counties in southeastern Pennsylvania.

INCOREL recommended location of the plant on the Delaware River above Morrisville. The proposal was contained in a report the commission made for the Southeastern Pennsylvania Regional Planning Commission.

The report also contained the prediction that eventually a project drawing water from the river above Morrisville would supply a high percentage of the drinking supply for Philadelphia, Bucks, Delaware, Chester and Montgomery counties.

"The longer this step is delayed, the more difficult the problem becomes," the report said.

INCOREL's executive secretary, James H. Allen, suggested that the undertaking be made by a southeastern Pennsylvania regional water authority operating as a joint agency of the City of Philadelphia and the neighboring four counties.

The report advised the regional planning commission to take the lead in an engineering survey.

$4 MILLION BOND ISSUE BEFORE PUC

HARRISBURG (AP)—A request by the York Telephone and Telegraph Co. for authority to issue a four million dollar bond issue to pay for improvements and additions to its system was before the Public Utility Commission today.

The utility asked PUC approval of the issue yesterday and said the money would be spent in new plant construction, for refunding outstanding securities and to meet bank loans.

Serving 40,000 customers in York and Adams counties, the utility was recently fined a record $52,550 by the PUC for what the commission said was failure to furnish and maintain adequate service as ordered.

The company has appealed the fine.

LEADER PLANS MANUFACTURERS 3 PER CENT TAX

By LEONARD A. UNGER
HARRISBURG (P)—Gov. Leader Thursday ruled out a net income tax as a solution at this time to the commonwealth's financial dilemma. He said the administration's new tax program would be limited to a manufacturers' excise tax.

The governor told his weekly news conference the rate on the manufacturers' levy would be about 3 per cent, subject to dropping of his previous demand for some 118 million dollars in increased business taxes.

The personal net income levy, tentatively agreed upon by Democratic leaders in tax discussions in the past few days, was abandoned, he said, because:

"Can't Buck Groups"
"We recognize that we can't buck too many interest groups and the 27 Republican members of the Senate at the same time."

Leader, however, refused to rule out any form of income tax for the remainder of the 1955 Legislature. Senate Republicans last August defeated his proposal for a classified income tax.

Asked if the manufacturers levy would not add a further burden on business in Pennsylvania, he said: "This would not put Pennsylvania industry at a disadvantage in the market in Pennsylvania or out of the state."

Explains Tax
He explained the tax would operate this way:

The tax would be paid by a Pennsylvania manufacturer for that part of his production sold within the state.

On out-of-state products, the tax would be paid by the jobber or wholesaler bringing the product into the state. If the retailer or even the ultimate consumer purchased a finished article from some other state, then he would pay the tax.

The governor said present plans calls for exempting food from the levy. Other exemptions will be sharply limited, he said.

"We can't go far with exemptions," Leader asserted. "We have to be hard-headed about exemptions or we're not going to get the yield we need."

Hidden Sales Tax
The governor was asked about

criticism that a manufacturers' excise was a hidden sales tax, the cost of which would pyramid by the time the consumer received the article.

"If this is the kind of tax Sen. Mahany can view as a sales tax and we can view as not a sales tax, a miracle has happened and I'm interested to know where the newspapers will stand on this," he said.

Leader referred to a statement by Sen. Mahany, Republican Senate leader, that a manufacturers' excise tax was "a hidden sales tax."

Mahany and other Republicans have been seeking a 2 per cent sales tax to balance the state's budget.

The governor disclosed a whirlwind timetable which will see the tax bill introduced in the House next Monday with a hope that it is passed in a special post-midnight session early Wednesday.

That would put in the hands of the Republican-controlled Senate before Thanksgiving.

The governor said he expected "walls of anguish" from the GOP senators, but added:

"I believe enough of them will support a tax program—probably this one—to put it through."

"I Think We Have Arrived"
Leader then was queried as to whether he would be willing to settle for a compromise dividing the tax burden between the manufacturers' excise and a personal net income tax.

"I don't know what I would consider," he said. "I think we have arrived at a program we can live with. So much demagoguery has come in on this tax thing that finding a solution to it has become quite difficult."

Grand Jury Indicts Man On 65 Counts

DOYLESTOWN, Pa. (P)—Coroner Russell J. T. Ferris was indicted Wednesday on 65 counts of obtaining money under false pretense, embezzlement by public office, fraudulent conversion and conspiracy.

The Bucks County grand jury also returned 15 bills of indictment against Ferris's deputy, Dr. William Goldfarb, charging the same offenses.

The charges concern autopsies and allege that bills were presented for post-mortem examinations never performed or for overcharges made on autopsies that were performed.

Ferris was Republican county chairman until the charges were first made on Sept. 17 by Democratic county leaders. He resigned that post shortly afterwards and was subsequently beaten when he sought reelection as coroner.

Red Press Confirms Sunken Ship Report

HONG KONG (P)—The Chinese Communist Liberation Daily reached Hong Kong Thursday confirmed a report: earlier this year that the Chinese ship Mingtze No. 3 hit a reef and sank with 1,306 passengers in Hangchow Bay.

Nationalist Chinese reports said Hsu Ping-fu, captain; Lin Ping, chief mate; and Lin Yen-hsin, pilot, have been arrested and charged with deliberate sinking of the ship.

The accident occurred April 17, but today's report was the first time the Reds admitted the accident had occurred. They gave no estimate of casualties.

BIG TRANSPORT CRASHES INTO SAWTOOTH MTS.

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—An Air Force transport with 14 persons aboard crashed high in the sawtooth Charleston Mountains while en route to the Nevada atomic bombing range yesterday.

An arctic rescue team from March Air Force Base, Calif., braving sub zero temperatures, combed on foot through the snow early today in an attempt to reach the wreckage at about the 9,000-foot elevation.

The rugged range in the high plateau country was shrouded in clouds and whipped by high winds and intermittent snow.

The wreckage, sighted by search planes through a rift in the clouds yesterday, lay on a high slope next to 11,910-foot Mt. Charleston, 27 miles northwest of here.

The aircraft had been due at Groom Dry Lake 50 miles north of the AEC's Camp Mercury, after leaving Burbank, Calif., 225 miles southwest of here.

Routine Mission

Air Force headquarters in Washington, D. C., said the aircraft, believed to be a C-54, carried Air Force personnel and "some civilian consultants." It was not disclosed how many of each. The mission was described as "routine."

An AEC spokesman in Albuquerque, N. M., said the AEC had no embargo on information about the crash and had no special interest in it, indicating that no atomic scientists were aboard.

A Nellis spokesman said the transport took off from Burbank shortly after 8 a.m. yesterday and routine radio contact was made with Nellis some time after 9 a.m. That was the last heard from the plane. An unidentified airman at the Nellis rest camp on Mt. Charleston reported hearing a crash about 10.

Leader Says Tax No Barrier To Industry

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. Leader says he is certain his administration will bring about a "favorable climate" for industrial development in Pennsylvania.

The governor told a meeting of the Pennsylvania Utilities-Railroad Area Development Assn. last night.

"I want to create a favorable climate for industrial development in Pennsylvania. I believe we can and I know we will."

He said some state residents feel the tax proposals of the Democratic administration have been in conflict with the plan to bring new industry to the commonwealth.

"Obviously, I do not believe so," Leader asserted. "Highly controversial tax debates generate extravagant statements on the relationship between state and local taxes and industrial development."

WESTINGHOUSE ASKS COURT TO SAVE PA. PLANT

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Westinghouse Electric Corp. Thursday asked the Pennsylvania Supreme Court to restore a preliminary injunction that would prohibit what it called "illegal mass picketing and a seizure" of its Lester (Pa.) plant by striking members of the independent United Electrical Radio and Machine Workers of America.

The Delaware County Common Pleas Court had "resolved the injunction Oct. 28 after it had been in effect for nine days on grounds that there was no evidence that workers were acting with force or intimidation to prevent anyone entering the picketed premises."

Atty. F. H. Strubing, representing the big electric firm, argued that there was "uncontradicted evidence" that members of the union—which he estimated to be about 6,000—have acted illegally by mass picketing and have caused

"irreparable injury" to the corporation.

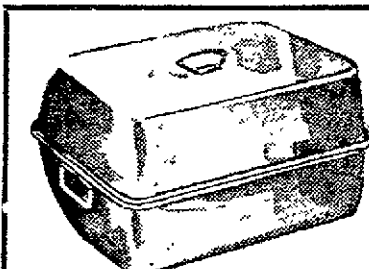

Strike Began
The strike was called Oct. 19 in support of the UE's demand for a wage increase and other benefits.

Atty. David Cohen, representing the union, replied in his brief that the evidence is uncontradicted that from the inception of the work stoppage the union was determined that no violence or threats of violence would mar the picket line. Cohen said further in rebuttal that UE pickets permitted any company-authorized persons to enter or leave the plant. He said the union picketing was "limited to peaceful persuasion."

Chain-Locked
The Westinghouse Lester plant, located on the outskirts of Philadelphia, is comprised of 93 acres. It has six entrances. The union says that all but one are chain-locked.

The plant designs and produces industrial and mechanical drive turbines for central power stations. The company brief said the plant also manufactures "some apparatus for atomic energy projects."

WHEAT ACREAGE CASE TO BE MON.

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP) — A court hearing is scheduled in Harrisburg Monday in a government move against Miss Elsie Mumma, 55, Hummelstown, charged with overplanting her wheat acreage allotments.

In an affidavit which reached Federal Court here Wednesday, Miss Mumma said:

"I am an unmarried orphan in a homestead of my forefathers. In times of peace as long as I own the land, the land is mine to have, to hold, to govern, to protect, to plant and to harvest and no one has the right to enter upon the land without my permission or without a warrant of the law and I will die to defend my constitutional and biblical rights."

The government charges Miss Mumma with exceeding her wheat quota by 18 acres. Under the law the penalty could amount to $450.

The government has asked for a summary judgment against Miss Mumma for allegedly violating the wheat quota law. If U. S. Judge Frederick Follmer, who will preside Monday, refuses the government's motion, then the case will be scheduled for trial.

Miss Mumma has asked a trial before a jury of farmers.

Sunday School Lesson

Rev. Dr. Howard R. and Margaret C. Gold

EVIDENCE OF JESUS' POWER
Luke 7: 11-23

Key Verse: Go and tell John what you have seen and heard: The blind receive their sight, the lame walk, lepers are cleansed, and the deaf hear, the dead are raised up, the poor have good news preached to them. Luke 7:22

Jesus was still at the height of success. He and His disciples went back and forth through Galilee, followed by great crowds who were either seeking physical healing or spiritual refreshment. In both miracles and preaching our Lord had testified to His real mission. In last week's lesson He had preached the greatest sermon of His career, telling of the new law or covenant which He had come to bring — principles of righteous living.

Even the uneducated people who came to hear or to be healed recognized the universal quality of Jesus' ministry. His eloquent addresses and many miracles were not the most important part of His work. His power to forgive sins and renew and recreate the lives of people who sought Him was the real evidence. The power of the gospel rests in its ability to change men's lives. This has been demonstrated repeatedly on mission fields, where individuals have changed completely after being converted to Christianity. Knowledge and philosophy may capture men's minds, but only Christ's saving gospel can capture men's souls.

In the seventh and eighth chapters of the Gospel of Luke we find a number of interesting narratives: Stories about miracles of healing, various contacts with individuals, and some parables. Naturally Luke develops certain aspects of Jesus' ministry, particularly His response to the need of the sorrowful, the outcast, the burdened of mind. The lesson commentators dwell particularly on two incidents in these chapters: The widow's son at Nain, and Jesus' answer to John the Baptist.

Some who came to Jesus were healed because of their faith. This was true of the centurion who brought his slave. Such was not the case in the narrative of the widow's son. Jesus, His disciples and a great crowd of followers arrived in a city called Nain. As they approached the city gate, they met the funeral procession of a man, only son of his widowed mother. The bereaved woman was accompanied by many friends. The account reads: "And when the Lord saw her, he had compassion on her and said to her, 'Do not weep.' And He came and touched the bier, and the bearers stood still. And He said, 'Young man, I say to you, arise.'" Immediately the young man sat up and began to speak. All who watched were seized with fear. They glorified God, saying, "A great prophet has arisen among us!" This miracle was the result of Jesus' compassion and is recorded in none of the other Gospels.

Another convincing account in lesson is that of the two disciples of John the Baptist whom John sent to Jesus, asking, "Are you he who is to come, or shall we look for another?" It is not difficult to imagine the imprisoned John, wondering if his predictions about Jesus had been true! If He were what He had proclaimed Him to be, why had He not declared Himself and set John free? A very human reaction! Instead of trying to prove His messiahship in answer to John's message, He cured many of diseases, plagues, and evil spirits. Then He turned to John's amazed disciples and said, "Go and tell John what you have seen and heard." The climax of Jesus' answer, all of which is found in the Key Verse, was "the poor have good news preached to them." This, a "spiritual miracle," was the most important of all. As it happened in history, John belonged to the old order, Jesus to the new.

So the point in Jesus' answer to John the Baptist's inquiry is to show that Jesus is the Son of Man, coming in compassion. Consequently, His deeds of mercy in believing human need are evidence of His power. Our Lord's critics recognized His power but they would not accept Him. This raises the question whether people are willing to believe what they see, or whether they believe only what they want to believe.

We must adjust ourselves to a new understanding of the truth as did John the Baptist. He had the idea that Jesus would come avenging the wrath of God. Instead Jesus was a lowly teacher and healer, who through the good news of saving grace provided the real miracle — changed lives and a new social order.

How Christian Science Heals

"OUR GREATEST CAUSE FOR GRATITUDE"

WGET 1450 KC Sunday 8:15 A.M.

Thanksgiving Day is our country's public recognition of the power and providence of God. It is peculiarly an American institution, which has no counterpart in other lands.

On this day the people of our country, led by the government itself, express their humble and heartfelt thanks to God for His protecting care and the abundance of His provisions for our comfort and welfare.

The day itself is a wholesome influence in American life. It means a great deal when the people of a great nation lay aside their material concerns and gather in family groups to express gratitude for divine providence.

The Thanksgiving dinner may be a feast of delicacies or an unpretentious meal of simple fare. But those who partake of it should do so with thankful hearts and understanding minds.

"Let everything that hath breath praise the Lord," sang the Psalmist. And in thousands of churches and millions of American homes this Thanksgiving Day grateful people will bow in humble recognition of God's matchless goodness.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend and support the church of his choice: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church on Sunday and read your Bible daily.

BIG FOUR FLOP MAY STIMULATE EUROPE'S UNION

By JOSEPH E. DYMAN
GENEVA (AP) — Leaders in Western Europe's unification drive believe failure of the Big Four conference to reach an East-West settlement will give a new spurt to their long-stalled movement.

Ever since the July summit conference, and while the world waited for the "acid test" of Soviet intentions here this month, European unity idled on the sidelines.

Many Europeans expected or hoped the foreign ministers meeting would produce some action which would change the basis of European integration. That feeling has now evaporated.

The first reflection of the new emphasis on European unity comes this month when Jean Monnet's "action committee" holds its initial session in Paris.

Monnet drafted the Schuman Plan for the six-nation European Steel and Coal Community some five years ago. He hopes the "action committee," composed of political leaders in France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg, will spearhead a federal union in Western Europe.

Represent Majority
The political parties represented on Monnet's committee comprise a parliamentary majority in each country.

A key element of the group is the West German Socialists, who in the past have been cool to European integration on the grounds it would obstruct German reunification.

West German Socialists opposed rearmament and the treaties tying Bonn to Western defense for that reason.

But their presence on the Monnet committee may herald for the first time a bipartisan foreign policy in Bonn. There are reports that the Socialists may now come around to Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's view that the best way to reunify Germany is to establish an "irresistible pole of attraction" in the West through strength

THREE CHARGED WITH NARCOTICS

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A public school teacher and two other men were arrested Wednesday on charges of selling, possessing and using narcotics in what police said was an aftermath of last month's mass narcotics raids here.

George S. Haslam, 24, who has taught as a substitute in city junior high and high schools, was arrested first and then implicated the other two, police said. They were identified as James Martin, 23, and James Walker, 33.

Lt. Thomas McDermott of the narcotics squad quoted Haslam as saying he purchased narcotics in New York state and passed them on to Martin and Walker. McDermott said Haslam denied using the drugs for the past six months.

A person jailed as a result of the October raids furnished the tip that led to the three arrests, said McDermott.

PUC ASKS MORE PRR TESTIMONY

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP) — The Public Utility Commission called for more testimony Thursday at hearings on a Pennsylvania Railroad proposal to drop three of seven passenger trains between Williamsport and Harrisburg.

At opening sessions of the hearing yesterday the railroad was accused by attorneys for groups protesting the move of "wasteful operational practices" on the three trains.

The attorneys also said the railroad presented "statistics at the hearing that do not particularly pertain to the case at hand."

The company is seeking to drop its passenger service on the three trains serving Sunbury, Montandon, Milton, Watonsville, Montgomery, Muncy, Halifax and Millersburg.

PRR says the two daily-except-Sunday runs (Nos. 526 and 527) and a Sunday-only train (No. 525) should be dropped because patronage has fallen "drastically" in recent years. The railroad contends it is losing $41,897 a year by operating the trains.

and unity. This argument is that East Germans would be so attracted to a West European Union that the Russians would not dare prevent a junction.

Many other obstacles to European unity remain, however.

One of the greatest is the continued division of Germany, which gives the Kremlin a handy bait with which to attempt to lure West Germany away from any European union. Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov in effect, has told West Germans they must deal with Moscow if they want their nation united.

WORLD QUIET BUT TENSIONS ARE BREWING

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower and his Republicans can look out across the earth and, except for an occasional shot on the Israeli-Egyptian frontier, there is not a tank moving. There is peace, it seems.

But it is the kind of peace a fisherman sees when he looks across a lake on a frigid November. On the surface nothing stirs, but only because the cold has driven the fish down deeper to wage their endless struggle against one another.

If there is still no open war by next election day the Republicans will have a good talking point. But in the end the cold war, with the subtle struggle fought beneath the surface, may be just as deadly as a hot one.

Some Tests Ahead
The United States has plenty of trouble on its hands. How well it is overcome will be one of the major tests of the Eisenhower administration.

The Israeli-Egyptian struggle is only one part of the deadly struggle between the United States and Russia. The Egyptians are buying arms from the Communists, reportedly 80 million dollars' worth.

The Israelis have asked the United States for arms. They had hardly made the request Wednesday when the Egyptian ambassador in Washington warned this country that if the Jews get American arms the United States loses the friendship of the Arab world.

The Republican politicians are over a barrel on this, just as the Democrats would be in their place. This country can't afford to lose the friendship of the Arab world with its oil supplies and its strategic value in a war with Russia.

At the same time the politicians know the large American Jewish voting population doesn't want to see the Jews of Israel outgunned or overrun by the Arabs.

Up till now the United States

would stiff-arm the Communists. The Middle East has been a barrier to Russian expansion southward.

But the Russians now are making bid to move in, if only at first in a kind of oblique way. They'd have to inch in anyway. They're promising not only arms but economic help, as in Saudi Arabia, Afghanistan and Syria.

The United States, to offset Russian promises of aid, may have to step up its own economic assistance in the Middle Eastern area. But this happens at a time when the Eisenhower administration is trying to cut expenses.

All in all, the Eisenhower administration has tough days ahead, with the Democrats always on hand to point to the failures.

LONDONDERRY, Vt. (AP) — The automobile of W. Harrington Hemenway of Adams, Mass., was wrecked when it overturned but four dozen eggs in the back seat were not broken. Hemenway was also uninjured.

TEST INFRARED SPOTLIGHTS TO CURB SPEEDING

HARRISBURG (AP) — A telescope-like instrument coupled with radar and two infrared spotlights was demonstrated on the Pennsylvania Turnpike last night as a safety measure which may result in reduction of nighttime speeding.

State police, lawmakers, truck association officials and highway safety experts saw the former secret Navy instrument in its first public test as applied to highway use along the eastbound lanes of the toll road about eight miles from here.

"I definitely believe it will cut down nighttime speeding—the driver will have no idea he is being watched," said Capt. S. J. Leaton, Shaeffer, commander of the Penn-

Father Of Quads Dies Of Cancer

BALTIMORE (AP) — Edward J. Pappas, 33-year-old father of quadruplets, died in a veterans hospital Wednesday night of cancer.

The young steel worker, originally from Wilkes-Barre, Pa., had been ill for several months but was not told when doctors determined a

Sylvania state police turnpike detail. "It certainly has a high potential safety factor."

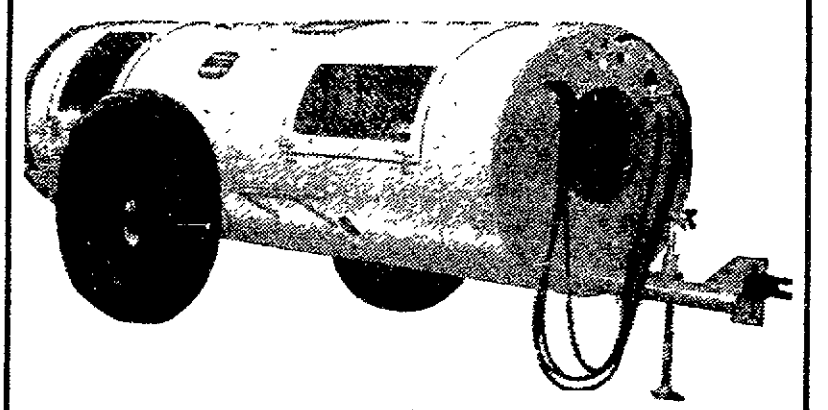

Effect On Truckers
Edward Gogolin, executive director of the Pennsylvania Motor Truck Assn., said that "psychologically I know it will have a terrific impact on the speeding trucker."

During last night's test, two 5½ inch infrared spotlights shining on the highway, but invisible to the naked eye, made identification markings on passing trucks visible on a television-like screen.

few weeks ago that he was doomed. Two boys and two girls were born Feb. 24, 1951, to Pappas and the former Harriet Miles, also from Wilkes-Barre. They have a younger daughter and another son born seven months ago. The couple came to Baltimore about seven years ago from Wilkes-Barre.

Pa. Hunter Case Alive In Canada

OTTAWA (P) — The Province of Quebec Thursday filed objections with the Supreme Court of Canada to a request by the federal cabinet for a review of Wilbert Coffin's murder conviction.

Attorneys acting for the Quebec attorney general said the federal government has no authority to refer other than constitutional questions to the supreme court.

The convicted 44-year-old Gaspe prospector is scheduled to be hanged Feb. 10 for the murder of Richard Lindsey of Hollidaysburg, Pa. Lindsey was one of three American bear hunters found dead in the Gaspe peninsula bush in June, 1953. Coffin was convicted in July, 1954.

$110,000 "PENSION"

LOS ANGELES (P) — Sidney Langdale, 69, who was believed by acquaintances to be living on an old age pension was found — after death — to have been the owner of more than $110,000 worth of U. S. Steel stock. All efforts to locate relatives were unavailing until a brother, Arthur, of Salt Lake City, telephoned the public administrator.

BIG TRANSPORT CRASHES INTO SAWTOOTH MTS.

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — An Air Force transport with 14 persons aboard crashed high in the sawtooth Charleston Mountains while en route to the Nevada atomic bombing range yesterday.

An arctic rescue team from March Air Force Base, Calif., braving sub zero temperatures, combed on foot through the snow early today in an attempt to reach the wreckage at about the 9,000-foot elevation.

The rugged range in the high plateau country was shrouded in clouds and whipped by high winds and intermittent snow.

The wreckage, sighted by search planes through a rift in the clouds yesterday, lay on a high slope next to 11,910-foot Mt. Charleston, 27 miles northwest of here.

The aircraft had been due at Groom Dry Lake 50 miles north of the AEC's Camp Mercury, after leaving Burbank, Calif., 225 miles southwest of here.

Routine Mission

Air Force headquarters in Washington, D. C., said the aircraft, believed to be a C-54, carried Air Force personnel and "some civilian consultants." It was not disclosed how many of each. The mission was described as "routine."

An AEC spokesman in Albuquerque, N. M., said the AEC had no embargo on information about the crash and had no special interest in it, indicating that no atomic scientists were aboard.

A Nellis spokesman said the transport took off from Burbank shortly after 8 a.m. yesterday and routine radio contact was made with Nellis some time after 9 a.m. That was the last heard from the plane. An unidentified airman at the Nellis rest camp on Mt. Charleston reported hearing a crash about 10.

Leader Says Tax No Barrier To Industry

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Leader says he is certain his administration will bring about a "favorable climate" for industrial development in Pennsylvania.

The governor told a meeting of the Pennsylvania Utilities-Railroad Area Development Assn. last night:

"I want to create a favorable climate for industrial development in Pennsylvania. I believe we can and I know we will."

He said some state residents feel the tax proposals of the Democratic administration have been in conflict with the plan to bring new industry to the commonwealth.

"Obviously, I do not believe so," Leader asserted. "Highly controversial tax debates generate extravagant statements on the relationship between state and local taxes and industrial development."

STEVENSON AND KEFAUVER MAY BE NEW TICKET

CHICAGO (AP)—Talk of a possible Stevenson-Kefauver ticket spread today among Democrats looking forward with new-found confidence toward next year's presidential nomination.

The party's state chairmen took the center of the stage today after the Democratic National Committee voted unanimously yesterday to open its 1956 convention doors to additional delegates.

Paul Ziffren, California national committeeman who helped sponsor the idea, said the expanded convention represented a new high of optimism among party workers.

"We've got a lot of Democrats who want to get in on the ground floor in the business of electing the next president," he said.

2,744 Delegates
A total of 2,744 delegates and 1,896 alternates will be eligible to attend the 1956 convention. They will have a total of 1,372 votes.

Individual members of the national committee had their own ideas about the identity of their presidential nominee, but Mayor David Lawrence of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania national committeeman, said sentiment for Adlai E. Stevenson appeared to be mounting rapidly.

Lawrence said there was talk of a ticket headed by Stevenson, with Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee as the vice presidential candidate.

Kefauver, due here later in the day, has maintained he wouldn't be interested in second place. He has said he will announce next month whether he plans to run again for the presidential nomination he lost to Stevenson in 1952.

Some Democrats thought that if

Kefauver ran and lost out—or if he didn't run at all—he might be persuaded to take second place on the ticket.

Have $750,000 Fund

Democrats were cheered by a report of National Chairman Paul M. Butler yesterday that they had raised $750,000 in the first nine months of 1955, compared with $576,000 in the same period in 1953. They expect to boost the ante by about $200,000 taken in at tomorrow night's $100-a-plate dinner.

The committee approved the increase in delegates for the 1956 convention after adopting rules yesterday aimed at preventing any new "loyalty oath" controversy.

Stephen A. Mitchell, former chairman who headed the committee recommending the compromise, said the effect would be to require Democratic "leaders" to support the nominees of a convention they attend but would permit rank and file Democrats to cross

URGES WATER CONTROL LAW

HARRISBURG (AP)—William Voight Jr., executive director of the state fish commission, says the greatest threat to recreational fishing in Pennsylvania is the "increasing demands made upon surface waters."

Voigt told a meeting of soil conservation district directors yesterday, however, that proper farming practices "will go further toward guaranteeing good recreational fishing for Pennsylvania than many party lines if they felt they had to.

The national committee elected as new vice chairmen Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, Rep. Hale Boggs of Louisiana and Gov. Robert Meyner of New Jersey.

of the techniques and devices dreamed up by fish managers." Urging passage of a "sensible" water control law, the executive director said:

"Soil, vegetation and water are the indivisible and inseparable trinity of natural resource conservation. Mistrust one and all suffer and the entire population suffers. So does recreational fishing."

The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad award for outstanding soil conservation during the past year went to Michael and Walter Gresh, operators of a 150-acre dairy farm at Ebensburg, Pa.

First place in the annual county soil conservation district contest went to Fulton County.

Brazil is larger than the continental United States, being about as large as the United States would be if a second state of Texas were added to it.

DELAWARE RIVER WATER NEEDED

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Interstate Commission on the Delaware River Basin (INCOREL) yesterday recommended construction of a waterworks plant that would ensure the future water supply of five counties in southeastern Pennsylvania.

INCOREL recommended location of the plant on the Delaware River above Morrisville. The proposal was contained in a report the commission made for the Southeastern Pennsylvania Regional Planning Commission.

The report also contained the prediction that eventually a project drawing water from the river above Morrisville would supply a high percentage of the drinking supply for Philadelphia, Bucks, Delaware, Chester and Montgomery counties.

"The longer this step is delayed, the more difficult the problem becomes," the report said.

INCOREL's executive secretary, James H. Allen, suggested that the undertaking be made by a southeastern Pennsylvania regional water authority operating as a joint agency of the City of Philadelphia and the neighboring four counties.

The report advised the regional planning commission to take the lead in an engineering survey.

BREAKS ANKLE

BOSTON (AP)—Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy, wife of Sen. Kennedy (D-Mass.), is recuperating from a broken ankle at New England Baptist Hospital. Kennedy said she broke it Sunday while playing "touch football with my brother Teddy," a first string end on the Harvard football team.

$4 MILLION BOND ISSUE BEFORE PUC

HARRISBURG (AP)—A request by the York Telephone and Telegraph Co. for authority to issue a four million dollar bond issue to pay for improvements and additions to its system was before the Public Utility Commission today.

The utility asked PUC approval of the issue yesterday and said the money would be spent in new plant construction, for refunding outstanding securities and to meet bank loans.

Serving 40,000 customers in York and Adams counties, the utility was recently fined a record $52,550 by the PUC for what the commission said was failure to furnish and maintain adequate service as ordered.

The company has appealed the fine.

Wedding

Gordon-Clapsaddle
Miss Joyce Marie Clapsaddle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Clapsaddle, 520 S. Queen St., Littlestown, and Robert Leroy Gordon, W. King St., Littlestown, were married last Saturday afternoon in Redeemer's Evangelical and Reformed Church, Littlestown. Rev. Porter W. Seiwel officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

Prior to the ceremony an organ recital was presented by Ferree LeFevre, Littlestown, who played the traditional wedding marches and was accompanied by the soloist, Stewart N. Long, Littlestown.

Mrs. Edward L. Warner, Littlestown, twin sister of the bride, was matron of honor.

Miss Betty Vealy and Miss Phyllis Hawk, both of Littlestown, served as bridesmaids.

The best man was Kenneth Eyer, Littlestown, classmate of the bridegroom. Serving as ushers were Clyde Harner, cousin of the groom; Gene Hankey and Bernard Kebab, all of Littlestown.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the church social hall with approximately 100 wedding guests in attendance. Out-of-town guests were present from Washington, D. C., Baltimore, Gettysburg and New Oxford.

The couple left on a wedding trip through the south and to Florida. Upon their return they will reside at 643 West Princess St., York. Mrs. Gordon was graduated from the Littlestown High School in 1952 and the Garfield Memorial Hospital School of Nursing, Washington, D. C., with the class of 1955.

Mr. Gordon is a 1951 graduate of the Littlestown High School and spent two years in the U. S. Army. He is employed by the York Trust Company, York.
